BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—The more promising indications of one week ago have been followed up by a still further gain of rather more pronounced character, and it is pleasant to be able to depart from old stereotyped and tame reports. It would be still more gratifying to know that the improvement had come directly from an improvement in demand rather than from seasonable influences of diminished supplies and a stronger attitude assumed by holders; but any gain is welcome, and the chances are favorable for a still further stiffening should the Hudson suddenly close. The pushing forward of stock for some little time has been principally from along the river down to and including Newburgh Bay, but very few were sent from Haverstraw. From the latter point there are evidences that shipments may now increase, especially if it be evident that not many more brick are coming from above and any reasonable chance for securing custom here is shown. As compared with the opening of the current week, the gain in the line of value is from 12½c. to 25c. and seems to be pretty well sustained at the close, although none of the principal sellers claim more than $5.25, and some think that a little high except for strictly choice goods. The available supplies this week have not been very large, because of the fact that a great many barges came to hand covered or with orders to be so prepared for the purpose of tying the cargoes up in berths to be held for winter trade. This is in contradiction of the policy laid out by manufacturers some time ago, but many of them argue that it is just about as easy to carry stock here as at the point of production, and should an ice embargo occur, which is of course quite likely, the brick may prove handy at this location. For Pale Brick an absence of satisfactory demand is again reported, with the tone unsettled and practically no gain on the line of value.

GLASS.—Trade generally is moderate for both cylinder and plate glass, and the market for both kinds unsettled as a consequence of the disintegration of the previous controlling combinations. In the face of the condition of trade, additional production is starting up, and it looks as though between the fresh output and the stand-off buyers are likely to make until the duty question is settled, the present nominal position of values must continue. During the week representatives of about fifty window glass firms met in Milwaukee to wind up the affairs of the late unsuccessful combination. A dispatch received in this city contained the following: When the National Glass Company was formed about two years ago, it was with the intention of changing the price of window glass. The attempt to get all manufacturers of that kind of glass into the company failed and the few concerns who were not in the compact offered goods at a lower price than the schedule rates. This caused a break all along the line, and all agreements made when the company was organized had to be broken as a means of self-preservation. The company was held together in the hope by some means that those outside of the organization could be brought in, but the proposed reduction in the tariff on glass is such that the manufacturers say that they see no chance of maintaining prices.

HAIR.—During the summer and fall prostration of business the production of plasterers' hair became extremely moderate and stocks in first and second hands were allowed to run pretty low. Now when dealers desire to put away something for winter they are confronted with a generally light offering and competition to secure the amounts available has a hardening effect upon values.

LATH.—Without much stock to afford an applied test, the market has been a bit uncertain, yet on the whole does not appear to have lost much. So far as can be learned only ordinary stock sold recently at $2, the general rate for desirable goods standing up to $2.10, and some receivers talking of more money on next business. With winter at hand the chances are that the boundaries of demand may at any moment be brought down to the limits of this harbor, but that contingency is believed to be fully neutralized by the moderate quantity of stock to come forward and the possibility of a fair demand from our local dealers.

LIME.—The condition of trade undergoes very little if any change, and it may possibly be called a nominally steady market because former rates are quoted. Intimations of shadings are given, however, and indeed the direct claim is made that 5c. reduction has been accepted on both qualities. The feature of the situation is the latest move on the part of the manufacturers' combine. It amounts to about this. All former local agents have been refused further consignments and a special representative has been sent on here from the combination who will handle and control all the lime of Knox county, Maine, sent to this market, excepting the product of one manufacturer, the idea no doubt being to make the monopoly closer than ever. It may possibly work all right, but probably just as well to abstain from any decided opinion until a better opportunity for trial has been afforded. State lime is quiet and steady and some buyers are willing to give it the preference whenever they can reach it.

LUMBER.—The season may be considered as practically at an end so far as supplies from the interior are concerned, and according to talk of receivers there is not likely to be much offering from coastwise sources. No final blaze of glory was developed on the wind up, hardly a spark, and the year is going out with a flat condition of trade prevailing all around. The new tariff bill as presented from the Ways and Means Committee puts lumber on the free list, and of course leads to discussion among the Trade, but that is all. No immediate effect upon the market is shown except, possibly, where buyers had commenced to talk about engaging the product of certain Canadian mills, as they do nearly every year at about this time. Negotiations have been dropped to await legislative developments. Naturally there are arguments more or less pronounced regarding the propriety of removing the duty, according to the manner in which interests may be influenced, but conservative operators generally come to the conclusion that free lumber will simply give the Canadians a broader market for their product; that between the mills and the final handling of stuff the duty saved will be appropriated by the intermediate dealers, and actual cost to consumers not likely to undergo much change. There is a possible benefit suggested, however, in the chance that supplies coming over the border with freedom for some time may lead to greater care in cutting this side of the line and tend to the preservation of standing timber in the Northwest for a greater number of years than likely with a protective duty.

In the way of present values the position remains nominal to a large extent, although it would probably be a difficult matter for buyers to obtain any better terms than have for some time been offered them and the chances are in the other direction. It is supposed that with the necessity for depending largely upon rail transportation offerings from interior points must in future range up somewhat on valuation, and as latest advices from the eastward indicate that pretty much all afloats are forward and the mills shut down there is quite unlikely to be many cargoes seeking sale. The South is somewhat uncertain, but believed to be in a mood for light shipments.

Through the urging forward of parcels due on contract the local accumulation has of late somewhat increased, but the amount brought together for winter use is far below the usual showing, and the yards that are well filled in matter of quantity and assortment remain as the exception. Dealers as yet find little encouragement from custom seeking to enter upon contracts of any kind and have no good idea of what may be expected next season, but are confident that with any kind of a fair trade the market will at once stiffen up. Advices from the East represent that a large stock of logs will carry over, but a much reduced number of men go into the woods, and the latter report also comes from some sections of the West, although not universal. There is a great deal of cut stuff, too, to be wintered, and altogether it looks as though even with spring consumption opening up pretty full there would be means for securing lumber enough for it with the contingency of a surplus should the removal of duty be decided upon.

On December 5th dispatches were sent from Troy and Albany announcing that on account of the appearance of ice the boats leaving under that date would make their last trip for the season. This is the earliest closing of navigation in a great many years.

We are in receipt of a printed and neatly bound copy of the minutes of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, covering all meetings from the preliminary one to date. It is of course impossible to reprint them, but they show the steady progress made by this organization, and the large number of thoroughly representative lumbermen whose names appear as members is the most substantial portion of the record. The idea of publishing and distributing a complete transcript of the secretary's books is unique in its way, yet carries with it an impression of a determination to act free and above board, and show the entire trade that the general good is the objective point of the association. It is an honest, straightforward method, and in marked contrast to the general action of many other trade bodies.

A special meeting of the State Forestry Commission was held in this city during the week. According to reports made, the meeting was held for the purpose of determining on the prices to be charged for land and stumpage in the districts where the Commission has decided on disposing of land and timber. One of the Commissioners explained that "since the Adirondack Park is now established and a certainty, it is the aim of the Forestry Commission to acquire as much land as possible within the boundary of the park and to dispose of all they can outside its limits." Quite a number of applications to cut timber at the State's price were received. The stumpage is being sold at 30 cents per standard—each standard being equal to 1,000 feet of lumber. The applicants agree to cut no trees under 12 inches in diameter. * * * The amount of money which will be realized this year from the sale of State lands sold by the Commissioners at from $1.50 to $4.50 per acre will amount to about $30,000. The superintendent was ordered, by vote of the board, to visit the American Foresters' Association and make arrangements for the special meeting to be held at Albany in February.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The mills at lake points have generally ceased operations, but there still is considerable movement of lumber by water. The disposition seems to be to prolong the shipping season in order to make up for lost time earlier in the year. Since Lake Superior is closed to navigation the principal activity has recently centerd at Green Bay points, and within a few days there have been heavy shipments from Menominee, Marinette and other ports to Tonawanda and Buffalo. Lumber is still being received in considerable quantity at this port, though the amount is less than at a corresponding time last year.

The western wholesale markets generally report a falling-off in requirement, though there is still a fair measure of distribution prevailing.

The amount of pine lumber on hand at this point is about 60,000,000 feet less than at a like time last year, and though there will be further receipts, there is little doubt that the year will close with a comparatively short stock on hand.

Throughout the white pine field there is a healthy condition in respect to stocks and prices. While there is apparently sufficient lumber to meet a probable winter and spring demand, there is nowhere, either at the mills or in the distributing yards, a surplus that can, in any degree, be burdensome. Prospects for next season's trade are good, collections are fair, and altogether conditions are more favorable than was earlier expected at the season's close.

There is some discussion about the proposal in the new tariff bill to place lumber on the free list, but as yet the question has not assumed such definite shape as to affect market conditions.

A few cargoes have straggled in during the week. The weather has been rough, and vessels have made poor time, and crews have had hard work to keep their deck loads intact. Lumber has arrived from various points on Green bay and the north Michigan shore. One load came in from the Georgian bay region of Canada, and the lumber, which was inch stock, turned out well. The probability is that some lumber will arrive while the harbors at mill points shall remain open.

The market is quiet. The yard dealers are indifferent to lumber which is not dry. A load of green inch, running 10 to 12 per cent better than common, hung on the market, this week, for several days without a buyer, because it was green. Green piece stuff is not wanted, but dry goes all right at $10 a thousand for short, $10.25 to $10.50 with a considerable percentage of long lengths in the cargo, and $11 to $11.50 for 20-foot lengths and upward.

There is no special demand for inch, unless it is dry. Sales are made at about quotations.

The stormy weather of the past week undoubtedly hard hit the yard trade. Work was delayed, the local requirement checked, and the consequent subsidence of movement was such that dealers were impressed with the fact that winter was close at hand and that the more active season was closed. Yet some of the yards are shipping a good deal of lumber with sufficient orders ahead, and inquiry at hand to promise a fair trade well into December. Much will depend on the weather, as is always the case at this season of the year. Some of the dealers report little prospect for country trade before next February. Others think there will be a moderate country demand all winter.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The weather the past week has looked more propitious for logging operations in the woods than any time thus far this fall. In many places the ground was not frozen when the snow fell, but as the snow fall was light, and the weather has since been cold, it will undoubtedly be in good shape for the next storm.

The Wilson tariff bill places lumber on the free list. As to what will be done with the bill remains to be seen, after the Senate takes hold of it at the coming session of Congress. Free lumber might effect the lumber industry in northern Michigan and some lake markets, but it is not believed that it would be serious, as prices would probably adjust themselves to the circumstances. Minneapolis lumbermen appear to be divided as to their opinion of the matter, in fact lumbermen everywhere are.

There is quite a division of opinion in Canada as to the advisability of reimposing an export duty on logs. Such a course as proposed by the Fosterites, meets its strongest opposition, undoubtedly, in the Ottawa valley where nearly all the lumbermen pronounce themselves as against any such procedure. The Ottawa Free Press recently took the trouble to interview a number of the leading lumbermen of the Ottawa valley, and they were almost unanimous in saying that it would be an act of madness to put an export duty on logs now. They are of the opinion that the recent state election in the United States has encouraged the Canadian goverment to persevere in efforts to maintain restrictions upon trade between the two countries. One lumberman declares that he knows from personal experience that lumber making cannot be carried on profitably in the Georgian Bay district, as he built several mills there and the profits were all eaten up by railroad freight rates on the lumber. He believes that the only thing that can be done with the Ottawa timber is to sell it to the Americans, and the more that can be obtained from the logs and limits the better.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The London Timber Trades' Journal says:

Business in Oregon pine is, we understand, active, and the cargoes that have been received on this side, though somewhat slow of sale, have arrived very opportune now that stocks of other descriptions are moderate, and several cargoes of this class of sawn timber which have recently been sold have gone into use for building purposes in competition with 4th Swedish deals. On the Continent the demand is very brisk, and newly-arrived goods are selling readily at prices successfully competing with prime pitch pine.

The following is result of sale at Liverpool of Sequoia (California Redwood) ex Emily Reed, from San Francisco:

Lot.	Planks.	Thick.	In. long.	Ft. wide.	Per ft.

6	18	4	12-20	22-24	26d
7	19	4	12-20	22-25
23	35	5	14-19	26-39	28d

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot has continued in very good demand, partly speculative, partly from the trade and partly for export, with a stimulating effect upon values. Offerings have been fair, but as the companies enter up contracts for future delivery they seem less and less inclined to negotiate. The latest sale for future delivery includes about 3,000,000 lbs., understood to be at 10½c. On the average range of valuation we quote at 10⅝@10¾c. for Lake and 9½@9⅝c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper has found less than the seasonable demand, yet there seems to be a fair measure of satisfaction over the market and a firm feeling in regard to values. No surplus stock is accumulating. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 22c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 23c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 24c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 25c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 28c.; do. under 8 oz., 30c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@14 oz., 2c. for 10@12 oz. and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over 22c.; do 14 to 16 oz., 24c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 26c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 30c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 33c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 22c. for over 32 oz. and add 1c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 1c. 14 to 16 oz.; 1c. 12 to 14 oz.; 1c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 22c.; do. 16 to 32 oz., 24c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 26c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 28c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 32c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 22@27c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 25@28c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 27@29c. for 14 to 16 oz. and 29@34c. for 12 to 14 oz. All bath tub sheets, per lb., 16 oz., 26c.; 14 oz., 26c.; 12 oz., 27c., and 10 oz. and lighter, 29@32c. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 22c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 26@32c. per lb. IRON—American pig has undergone no change in general features. Buyers are few and far between for anything more than an ordinary trade parcel, and narrowness of demand fully balances all the reduction that has been made in the output. Prices in consequence, while quoted about as before, are weak and it is supposed that regularly-named figures are frequently quietly shaded. We quote at $14.00@14.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $13.00@13.50 for No. 2 X do., and $11.50@12.50 for Gray Forge. Old material remains about steady in price, and while fair quantities can be reached when wanted holders are refraining from any great effort to realize. The demand of late has been somewhat irregular, and evidently confined to immediate special wants of buyers. We quote at $12.50@14.00 for old iron rails; $10.00@11.50 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $10.00@11.50 for cast scrap; $12.50@13.00 for old car wheels, and $6.50@10.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron and steel has again been in a dull unsatisfactory position, and there was a great deal of grumbling over the market. Especially is that the case in the matter of contracts for finished goods for structural purposes, which continue very much behind last year, and there is no indication of revival. We quote Beams up to 15-inch, 1.75@2c.; 20-inch, 2.10@2.25c. for round lots; Angles, 1.75@1.90c.; Universal Mill Plates, 1.70@1.90c.; Tees, 2@2.15c.; Channels, 1.80@2c. on dock. Steel plates are 1.65@1.90c. for Tank; 1.90@2.10c. for Shell; 2@2.15c. for Flange, and 2.50@2.80c. for Fire Box, on dock; Refined Bars are 1.60@1.90c. on dock, and Common, 1.45@1.60c. Steel rails have worked around into a position that would appear somewhat firmer. The sales reported at $20 on the first break in price were not repeated because sellers calmed down and refused to allow the competitive spirit to warp their judgment into accepting rates that only made a serious loss. Still, new demand does not amount to much, and altogether it is a slow, unsatisfactory business at the moment. We quote nominally standard sections $24 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has not been very active since our last, and out of some irregularity on price buyers gained most of the advantage. There was, however, in a quiet way, considerable latent support, and said to come from local dealers carrying a full stock on which they desire to support values. At primal markets the situation is about steady. We quote at 3.30@3.40c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 6¼c. for Pipe, 7c. for Sheet, 15c. for Tin-lined Pipe, and 37½c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin has been rather slow, the natural demand proving limited, and buyers generally inclined to curtail business and talk of chances of tariff bill. Offerings fair but not allowed to press on the market. We quote at about 20.60@20.65c. for round lots, and 20¾@21c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate sells moderately in small lots and the market does not amount to much. Prices fluctuate somewhat but stocks are well enough in hand to prevent serious pressure at the moment for any delivery. We quote as follows: I. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.35@6.37½; Charcoal, Melyn grade crosses, $8.00; I. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.60@5.62½; Allaway grade crosses, $6.75; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $7.37½@7.40; M. F. grade, 20x28, $14.75@14.80; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70@5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.35@11.40; Dean grade, 14x20, $5.30@5.37½; Dean grade, 20x28, $10.50@10.60; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, —@—; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $10.10@10.12½; I. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $5.30@5.35; J, B. grade, 14x20, $5.35@5.40; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.60@— basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares $5.65@— basis. Spelter selling in single car lots to a moderate extent and, on the whole, a pretty steady position preserved for values. We quote $3.80@3⅞c. for Common Western, according to brand.

NAILS.—There is no change for the better apparently. Demand narrows down as the end of the year approaches, and so does production to a certain extent, but seemingly quite a little stock remaining, upon which manufacturers would like to realize and they are crowding for an outlet. Prices in consequence are somewhat unsettled, but rather favoring buyers. We quote Cut at $1.00@1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.20@1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.20@1.30 for car lots, and $1.60@1.65 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Demand does not increase in volume or improve in form and the market generally seems to be unsatisfactory. It is hardly worth while to recapitulate the ruling influences, the gist of them being the approaching end of the year and the extreme spirit of caution governing all negotiations. Production, too, is now being curtailed greatly preparatory for the usual clean up and inventories, but the supplies available are in some case a little larger than usual at this season and would need a call for considerable quantities and assortments. In matter of valuations just about old rates may be used for the present, but general revisions are expected before long and mostly to a lower scale. Corroders' rates stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 7¼c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6¾c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 6⅝c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 6½c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c.; and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for c[illegible]d within fifteen days of invoice date. T[illegible]ke either of the above required quantities any a[illegible]rtment of packages of white lead, red lead and [illegible]th-arge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil has been selling quite irregularly, but more particularly to the common qualities, over which there is greater competition. Crushers, however, are now less anxious to operate and make a greater showing of firmness all around, with finest brands offered sparingly. We quote at 40@42c. for Western, 43@45c. for City from domestic seed, and 61@62c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine meets with slow, uncertain demand and has shaded somewhat in cost, but in view of firmness on primal markets holders are careful about offering stocks. We quote at 29@30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Business dull and the tone of the market irregular. Possibly on the general range about old valuations might fairly be used, but even in a small way deals have something of a special character, and rates are fixed to suit the merits of the moment. Offerings equal the outlet, but do not become excessive. We quote Tar at $1.70@1.75 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.10@2.15 in pork bbls., and $3.00@3.25 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

Examples of Modern Town House Architecture.

THE LIVINGSTON AND DUNN HOUSES.

Three of a group of nine, on 88th and 87th Streets, near Riverside Drive.

Examples of Modern Town House Architecture.

FINE HOUSES IN AN IDEAL LOCATION—THE WEST END SECTION—ITS EXCLUSIVE CHARACTER AND BRILLIANT FUTURE—EXAMPLES OF MASTERLY CONSTRUCTION.

It is beginning to be apparent to everybody that the time is not far distant when the beautiful West End will be the most exclusive as it is now the choicest residence section in the metropolis. The tendency, which began slowly to move in that direction three or four years ago, has been gaining headway rapidly of late, and now the district is the scene of operations of the most extensive and successful builders in the city.

If a man seeking for a home in the city desires to separate himself as far as possible from the cares of business and its possible encroachments—desires the quietness of streets untroubled by the rumble and confusion of business traffic—desires a neighborhood atmosphere that is essentially domestic, and where neither grocery, nor saloon, nor stable, nor "flats," nor any other discordant establishment exists or is likely to make its appearance in any early generation—if he desires a clear, fresh atmosphere and sublime perspectives for his home life, he must go to the West End section to find it.

Not in any of the older residence sections can he now find all or even the most desirable of these charms, and such as there are are fast disappearing. It is but a question of a few years before 5th avenue, all below Central Park, will be given over to trade. The side streets, even south of Central Park, are in process of transformation for business uses. People who have lived seven or eight years in New York have only to rally their own recollections to perceive how startling and inevitable has been the encroachment of trade upon the old residence sections of the city.

There is but one section of the present accessible portion of the city that is free from all the objections above indicated—that has all the advantages and more. It is the West End section, lying along West End avenue and between it and Riverside Drive. There is no blemish on this section of any sort. It is the home section of the city, possessing every advantage offered by any other section, without their disadvantages. Nature could not have more clearly separated it from business and set it apart for home sites than it has. Trade will never find it an available district, it is off the line and the river front has been devoted to æsthetic instead of commercial uses. It lies high above the Hudson River, whose broad waters are in view for many miles, walled in by the stately palisades and of ever-changing aspect. Its foundations are the solid rock that conceals no malaria nor noxious gases. Its streets are all improved—most of them finished with the almost noiseless asphalt pavement. It is a section of all-year homes, in which the heat of summer is tempered by soft sea breezes. People who have lived in the West End through the summer have declared themselves better satisfied than if they had gone out of town. The future of the district is without question; it will in the near future be more in demand for the homes of people of refinement and domestic tastes than any other residence section in the city.

In this promising section the professional builders have, during the last two years, done the best work in town-house construction the country has ever known. All the representative architects of the city and many of other cities have stamped the impress of their high art upon it. The monotony of style that is the reproach of all the older residence sections is here dispersed in variety, and there is little or none of the vulgarity of ornamentation for the mere sake of ornamentation. A walk through the West End shows it to be a district of ideal city homes. It has all the quiet and freshness and beauty of the country, with all the comforts and conveniences of the city.

The illustration on the preceding page is of a row of the most recently completed houses of the class which characterizes the whole district.

When, in such a district, the opportunity is presented to buy a house which combines with these advantages of location the desirable qualities of pure art in the design and of conscientious workmanship in the construction, the homeseeker has presented to him all that can ever be obtained in the general house market and more than he could obtain by individual effort at even much larger expense. It is far cheaper to buy a ready-built house than to undertake to get equal accommodations in a house built to order. All other things being equal (materials, size, workmanship and style), the house built to order uniformly costs from 20 to 35 per cent more than either of several houses built by an experienced builder for the general house market.

These remarks are made with special reference to the houses built by Messrs. Livingston & Dunn, on 88th street, south side, close by the beautiful Riverside Park and Drive. On the preceding page is an illustration of three of them—the middle ones of a row of seven. There are two others, of similar design, abutting in the rear, on the north side of 87th street, one of which has already been sold to Chief Justice Sedgwick, of the Superior Court.

A pretty good idea of the stateliness and beauty of the general design of these houses can be obtained from the illustration, but neither the illustration nor this description can do full justice to them, and any one contemplating the purchase of a home in this city will not fail to make a personal inspection of them. Only by a personal visit and inspection can the peculiar charm of their location and the beauty of their setting be fully appreciated. Tastes will naturally differ somewhat in the choice of houses, but any one at all acquainted with architecture and construction will not fail to perceive in these houses the work of a master designer and builder. The light, bright exteriors, with perfect harmony and proportion expressed in their forms and lines, blend naturally and gracefully with the scenic setting. Mr. James Livingston, under whose direct and constant supervision they were built, brought to the task the benefits of a large and successful experience in house construction in this city, an experience which qualifies him better than anything else could to gauge the requirements of householders in this city. Seven houses built by Mr. Livingston in 87th street, near Columbus avenue, a year ago have all been successfully sold to pleased and satisfied occupants.

In these later houses the lighter materials now in vogue have been used, the result being a more cheerful and brighter appearance, while none of the solidity and stability of construction has been lost. The refinement of architectural style shown in the facades has been the admiration of all who have seen them. People who have traveled extensively in Europe have noted their resemblance in design to some of the best examples of Florentine architecture, while they are superior in workmanship and finish, throughout, to the houses of the old world. They are of light buff brick, with white limestone and terra cotta trim, the stone work neatly tooled and sculptured, as shown in the illustration. Two have box stoops, the others wide high stoops, with massive balustrades of the same stone. All but one have wide oriel bays through two stories. In two of them the bays are oval shaped, and in four they are hexagonal. Two of the houses are 20 feet wide and five are 21 feet wide; all are 58 feet deep and have two-story and basement extensions of 11.4x13, in which the laundry, butler's pantry and main bath-room are located. The 87th street houses are a trifle narrower, but are similar in all other respects. The lots are all 100.8 feet deep. The sidewalks, areas and rear yards are all paved and flagged with composition stone, perfectly smooth and even, and the streets are paved with asphalt.

The interior arrangement and finish of these houses are fit counterparts to their excellent exterior appearance. Of hardwood trim throughout, the wood has had to pass the critical inspection of one of the most exacting and conscientious builders in the city. The parlors are some in white mahogany (prima vera) and some in red mahogany, of massive mould and with mantels of artistic design. A fret-work arch, in which a portiere may be hung, separates the parlor from the music-room. The halls, which are of panel-cabinet trim, with balcony stairs and large console mirrors, and with a fret-work arch across the staircase, are finished some in red mahogany and some in quartered oak, with parquette floors, except in the vestibules, where the floors are paved with mosaic.

Full prominence has been given to the dining-rooms in the design and finish of these houses, and they are as bright, hospitable and spacious in appearance as any one could desire. They are finished in conventional oak—the wood of tradition for dining-rooms—with mantel of simple, yet graceful and artistic design, and with a high wainscot of paneled oak. These rooms occupy the full width of the houses and have excellent light through large rear windows. The floors are finished with parquette flooring to match the trim. The butler's pantry, in the extension, is finished in similar style. On the second floor are—in front, a spacious family room or library, with built-in bookcases, mantel and closet; a rear bed chamber and between them a luxurious double boudoir dressing saloon, finished in the handsomest style, with wardrobes, lavatory and full-length plate reflectors. In the extension is the main bath-room, with roll-rim porcelain tub, marble lavatory, closet, encaustic tile wainscot and parquette floor. It also has a wardrobe and divan, and dumb-waiter connection with the kitchen. The trim of some of these floors is of hazel and of others of sycamore, two of the most beautiful of native woods, all in a fine state of polish.

The third floor has two bedrooms, front and rear, with intermediate dressing-saloons and a hall bath-room, just a little less sumptuously finished, though in the same quality of trim, than the second floor. On the top floor, which is of white ash trim, there are four bedrooms, a storeroom and a servants' bath-room, with a water closet, an unusual provision in even the highest class of houses. The basement has the conventional breakfast-room, storerooms, a refrigerator-room, a spacious kitchen furnished with a first-class range, large copper boiler, ceramic sink, dish closets and a pantry; and in the extension is the laundry, with ceramic tubs, a dumb-waiter to the second floor and a stairway to the butler's pantry. The cellar is finished with white walls and ceiling, asphalt floor, and has a large bricked-in furnace, by which the house is heated. The cellar is light and well ventilated. The plumbing has been given special consideration by the builders, and is all that the best skill and materials can make it. The pipes throughout the houses are of the exposed, nickel-plated type, the fixtures of the best materials and neat in design. All through the houses there are special features and conveniences that indicate a builder educated by experience in the wants of the public. The builders invite the most critical inspection of these houses, which are now on the market. The Title Guarantee and Trust Company will guarantee the titles.

VOL. LII. DECEMBER 16, 1893. No. 1,344

THE recurring wave of despondency in the business world which was coincident with if not wholly consequent of the publication of the general terms of the proposed Wilson Tariff Bill deepens as the end of the year approaches, and it is safe to say that very little improvement is to be expected until it is seen how business stands the transfer into the new year. There has been so much talk of late of the failures that must come in the course of settling for 1893 that it would be unreasonable to expect business to revive in the face of such a prospect or that any one would have the courage to purchase securities in the hope of an early profit. The Pennsylvania circular calling upon heads of departments to economize cannot be accepted as anything but a notification to stockholders that they must expect to see a continuation of the decline in earnings, it was surely otherwise, not absolutely necessary to proceed in so public a manner to secure an administration of departments shaped according to circumstances. The period about to be entered upon is always a trying one to the railroads, as it is one of snow blockades and other climatic interferences to business, and if now to those evils is added a universal dullness in trade, it is not to be wondered at that the news of the day scares people into activity. This suggests one thought that ought not to be lost sight of, and that is that railroad managers as well as other business men are apt in bad times to carry their despondency farther than the circumstances require, just as they are apt in good times to be unduly hopeful, and while the conditions may for the time being be as they say, the end may not be as far off as they think. Should the gloomy views of to-day be overdone and the new year find a better and sounder condition of affairs than is now anticipated there would soon be a marked improvement on the face of things. There is just a suspicion drawn from the fact that the past six months have been the severest felt in this country for years, that the failures of the new year will not be as many and as heavy as a good many people now believe. Houses that have weathered the storm with money scarce and rates high should be able to pull through now that the reverse is the case, and no doubt all that deserve to will. The limited business does not come on the railroads as a surprise, and it will doubtless be found that economies in management will do much to maintain net earnings up toward the standard of last year. One thing that has had a very adverse influence is the continued low price of wheat and other cereals due to the constant presence of stocks on the market. While the amount in sight is very large, this cannot go on for ever and must have an effect on the invisible supply, and any indication that this is running low will put up prices. A substantial advance in the price of wheat would be very influential for good. So that looking at the situation all round it will be found that while there is proper cause for present anxiety, it is not all gloomy. A large part of the heaviness in the stock market is due to the pressure for sale of long stock and bonds both for home and foreign account and irrespective of the merit or prospects of the securities affected.

THE renewal of activity concerning the "Greater New York" scheme is a natural consequent of the recent overthrow of "Boss" rule in Brooklyn. The project, which has very much to recommend it, is essentially a Brooklyn project. Beyond the limits of Kings County it has so far received only perfunctory consideration, and if the scheme is to be brought, as the Commission intends, to the test of a popular vote throughout the district which is to comprise the enlarged metropolis, it will be necessary for those interested in the success of the measure to address themselves to the taxpayer of New York. Very little of a strictly business nature has hitherto been said to them. The advantages of "consolidation" (practical and financial) have been preached to the Brooklyn man, and to the denizens of the smaller places which are all to be incorporated in Greater New York, but to the New York taxpayer very little has been addressed save rhetoric. He has been told that with consolidation he will be a citizen of the second city in the world; his citizenship, in all its dimensions, will be enlarged; he will belong to a politically vaster community than at present. Not a word, however, has been uttered to show him exactly where he will stand as taxpayer in the new combination. During the last campaign it was clearly shown in the New York Times that taxes in Brooklyn are much heavier than in New York, and are based upon a much higher valuation of property. Some part of this is undoubtedly due to political dishonesty and inefficiency, but it seems to us no economy consistent with efficient government could ever bring taxes in Brooklyn as low as they are in New York. As a consequence it seems to us "consolidation" cannot but mean higher taxes for New York, and if it does mean this, we do not think the New Yorker will be very enthusiastically in favor of it. The Commission should give their attention to this point, and, if possible, convince the taxpayer on Manhattan Island that their plan does not mean for him heavier bills.

THE opposition of the city authorities to the addition of a third track on the elevated roads is an example of zealous wrongheadedness difficult to match. We have a Rapid Transit Commission endeavoring to conclude eighteen months of labor by formulating a travesty upon the service it was appointed to provide for the city; we have municipal officials who peremptorily refuse to give any reasonable consideration to the only means for providing the metropolis with the transportation facilities it needs, and now to complete the tangle of absurdities they are striving to prevent the Manhattan Company improving lines which already exist so that they may the better meet the crying necessities of the hour. The effort to solve the rapid transit problem clearly has become burlesque. Each step that has been taken lately has been a move further into the realm of farce. No reason can possibly be given why the Manhattan Company should not add a third track to their lines, and far from being encountered with legal opposition the company should receive encouragement from the public and support from the city authorities. In the interest of the metropolis it is sincerely to be hoped that the resurrected Commission which the company's lawyers have discovered has not been dead but sleeping and that legally it has the power to sanction the construction of the third track. It is from the Manhattan Company and from that company only that New York can obtain a measure of speedy relief, and it is from the municipality and from the municipality only that the city can obtain the rapid transit system it needs, sufficient in all respects for the requirements of the present and capable of meeting the demands of the future. The efforts and discussions of the past two years leave this conclusion unassailable.

IT is generally taken for granted that the "panic" stage of a financial crisis is the culmination, and so we find that the Public begin to take "hopeful views" and fall into various optimistic moods as soon as this acute period is past and the reports of failures and suspensions decrease in number. The worst is then supposed to be over, and of course, having passed that point, what is more natural than to assume that conditions must at once begin to mend?

EXPERIENCE, however, has demonstrated repeatedly that these early confidences and hopes are as delusive as winter signs of spring. True, the milder season is approaching—but, at a distance, and not infrequently in the world of commerce as in nature the tedious bad weather of the year lies between the first promise of pleasanter times and its complete fulfillment. The history of all the great "panics" shows that the commercial world has been, to use the vulgar phrase, "too previous" with its hopes. Disappointment has invariably been the immediate result of first anticipations. Affairs do not mend. Business does not quicken, stagnation and dullness persist in spite of a thousand good reasons for their departure. The prophets are confounded. Not perhaps for months, usually not until people have all become disgusted and despondent and have ceased watching the sky for good omens do better times steal in upon them, unheralded and unexpected.

THE cause of this confusion lies in the fact that people are wrong when they regard the "panic" stage of a financial crisis as the culminating stage. Undoubtedly it is so in one sense, but not in the popular sense. The "panic" hour, the moment of noisy tribulation, when fortunes undergo a process of extinction as rapid and easy as wiping figures from a slate, really only the manifestation of the first acute symptoms—the financial phase of a disaster that has overtaken the community. It invariably precedes the industrial phase of the trouble. To speak illustratively, it is the destruction of the boiler, or at least the sudden exhaustion of its steam, which may derange, and certainly will leave, the machinery of commerce without the power necessary for motion. The industrial phase of a panic is always subsequent to, less acute than, and also in a sense less noticeable than the financial phase. It is not revealed by any clearly registered set of effects manifested in a restricted locality, like a collapse of prices in Wall Street or the failure of large banking establishments amid the clamor of depositors. On the contrary, it is developed slowly over the entire country by the closing of factories here and there, "half-time" arrangements between mill owners and operatives, curtailed production, reductions in wages, etc., but more particularly by those multitudinous unrecorded and almost unrecordable restrictions which produce a very low state of industrial activity. This stage is really the worse stage of "panics;" the process of paying up for mistakes and misfortunes, and, curiously, it is usually coincident with the dull days succeeding the noise of financial disaster, when everybody is congratulating everybody that the storm is over and declaring that better times must be close at hand.

THE country is in this condition to-day. The "slow liquidation" which every panic entails is in progress. How long this will continue depends upon the amount of liquidation that must be done and upon the recuperative power of the people. There is nothing in our commercial condition to lead one to expect that the duration of this period will be particularly lengthy; but it is pretty certain to last long enough to seriously dissappoint the eagerly sanguine who look for sudden restoration of confidence, enterprise and commercial ability to carry again the loads that recently had to be relinquished. The newspapers have been great offenders by stimulating false expectations in the public mind. Their windy cheer has done more harm than good. At first we were assured our troubles were entirely "financial," had absolutely no connection with the industrial situation. The Sherman Law was the stumbling block. Our silver policy was wrong, but in every other particular we were particularly strong. All that was necessary was for Congress to pass the Repeal Bill, and for the country to resume its affairs at once as though nothing had happened. So ran the daily chatter. "Repeal" has been passed, a very large part of the gold exported early in the year has returned to us, the banks of the country were seldom in a stronger condition than to-day, and yet industry halts, production is at a very low point, prices yield little if any profit, collections are generally "slack" and wages declining. Utterly discredited in their first predictions the newspapers now cry that business is rapidly improving (far from the truth), or that it would have improved according to editorial expectation had it not been for the fearful doubts with which the tariff measure has suddenly beset the entire country. The correct explanation we have indicated in the foregoing. It was folly to expect a sudden resumption of prosperity. The process of recovery must necessarily be slow and gradual. Slight improvements following one another will produce "better times." In the meantime people must have patience and avoid the extremes of rash expectation or blind despondency. To act, but to act wisely is the requirement of the hour.

THERE is one quarter particularly where just now much might wisely be done. In all the larger cities of the country there are many public works, contemplated, pending or much needed. In New York, for instance, there are, to mention only the much spoken of necessities: the new Municipal Building, the Dock Improvements, the Speedway, the Elm Street and College Place widenings, new school houses, extensions of the Sewer system, etc. The common practice is for the municipality to be most active with its improvements in busy times when Capital is in urgent demand, when the price of materials is high and when Labor is well occupied. Then the city is ready to borrow and spend money. It enters the market at the very moment when it has to pay most for whatever it requires, and, to make matters worse, when it will enter into severest competition with the enterprise of its taxpayers. A more absurd policy could not be followed. It is in busy times that the Municipality should withdraw as much as possible from the market in the interest of both economy and its own citizens, whereas it is in dull times like the present that it should advance to stimulate trade when assistance is of the utmost value and to give employment to Labor, at the same time reaping incidentally for itself the benefit of low prices. Pittsburgh is about to undertake public works as a matter of philanthropy. Several western cities have similar projects afoot. Much good undoubtedly will result from these undertakings, for the number of the unemployed or only partly employed is larger than is commonly supposed. But the demands of philanthropy should not be needed to produce action which business common sense dictates. As we show in another column of this paper there has seldom been in the history of this city so propitious a time as the present for building of all kinds. Materials are extremely cheap, and, at least, the wages of superintendence are low. There is an abundance of money in the banks awaiting use upon unquestionable security. The municipality could no doubt obtain at low rates all the cash it needs for new enterprises, aad we believe that public opinion would heartily support Mayor Gilroy should he immediately adopt the policy of heavy expenditures in dull times. It is "good business," and would undoubtedly be of no little assistance in helping to relieve the financial situation.

THE national government, too, should adopt a like policy. It is ridiculous, at times like these, to hear that the Federal authorities have determined, like a bankrupt firm, to suspend, or minimize to the utmost, work on all the national buildings now under way. The present is the very time when the government should enter the market for all that it requires and thus sustain to its utmost the industry of the land. Manufacturers are not looking for big profits now and will consider themselves amply paid if they can keep their factories going without overwhelming loss. It is the stoppage of works, the dispersal of operatives that perpetuates bad times and renders "recovery" so slow a process. If the wheels of trade are in motion, every little improvement in confidence or in actual condition adds something to the momentum, until soon the old pace is renewed; but, if the wheels once come to a standstill, these little accessions of force are lost and a start is impossible, until great energy can be applied.

The New Columbia.

A QUESTION of very great importance to the owners and residents of the Morningside Plateau, and of some importance to the whole city has been brought up by the report of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds to the trustees of Columbia. Formal action, we believe, has not yet been taken upon the report, but the report does not encourage the hopes of those who dreamed of seeing this plateau, isolated from the ordinary march of improvement by the bold bluff on its east side, converted into a unique, homogeneous, secluded and cloistral quarter, which might preserve, even in immediate proximity to a bustling city, "the still air of delightful studies."

It is understood that the trustees or their committee some time ago selected several eminent architects as their professional advisers. The selection of more than one seems to have been not merely superfluous but positively mischievous so far as concerns the architectural result to be obtained. Of course we do not mean anything in the least vindictive or disrespectful to any of the eminent architects concerned in saying that such a work can be better done by one man than by many or by few. In a group of college buildings the result to be aimed at is unity in the whole and homogeneousness, with only so much variety as is comfortable with homogeneousness in the parts. This is a result that one eminent architect is much likelier to attain than three or four. One can understand a competition among architects, or a combination among architects, as a convenient way out of a disagreement, upon the part of the several members of a corporation, respecting the choice of an architect. It is not very intelligible upon the part of Columbia for the reason that Columbia has already a college architect, who has done all its building for nearly or quite twenty years and has attained in the doing of it a brilliant architectural success. We have no other example in New York so fortunate and happy of collegiate architecture, with the character of cloistral repose that such an architecture should bear, that can be compared with the existing buildings of Columbia, excepting only the buildings of the General Theological Seminary, and these are by the same architect. When an institution has been so conspicuously fortunate in its architect it seems to argue a certain insensibility on its part to deny him the opportunity of carrying out work of the same character upon an ampler scale by associating with him any new architects, however eminent these may be.

The committee has sketched a sort of block plan of the principal buildings, a stage of the work at which professional advice would seem to be as valuable as at any other. It has also formulated certain conditions touching the style of architecture which somehow have the air of being formulated rather to support a foregone conclusion than to aid men who are really "to seek" in this matter. It is a matter which apparently, of all matters, might with advantage be left to the decision of the architect or architects. At any rate, it is quite as remarkable for what it omits as for what it contains. The first condition is that the style should be tested by the standard of utility, especially with respect to light and ventilation. Obviously enough, this condition has no relation to style. You must have piers big enough to sustain the superstructure, and these must be opaque; but a sash-frame, if the practical needs of the case call for a sash-frame, may be built in one style as well as in another. Another condition is the flexibility of the style, with reference to variety in the several buildings, and unity in the grouping; but this does not carry us far, because the classicist would certainly contend on his side, and the mediævalist on his, that the style of his respective choice had a marked advantage in this respect. That the style should be "appropriate to the municipal character of the situation" may mean that it should conform to the prevailing street architecture of New York. In this case it seems to us an unfortunate requirement, because a group of college buildings bordering a campus, if treated so as to mark its collegiate character, cannot have a "municipal" or urban effect; and, indeed, the charm it ought to have, the charm of seclusion and cloistral quiet, all the greater by contrast with municipal surroundings, would be completely dissipated and lost if itself were to become municipal. The requirement that the style should be that "in which the greatest number of architects can express themselves with fluency and to advantage," pretty distinctly calls for classic architecture, since all architects academically trained can make shift to handle the orders, but it is not a promising requirement if it contemplates the appointment of promiscuous architects to do a building each, in addition to the architects already chosen. That would again destroy the distinctiveness if not the unity of the resulting work.

It will be observed that nothing is said about material, which is a consideration at least as pertinent in the choice of a style as any of those that are enumerated. A much more important omission is that of any reference to the character of the buildings, and even more important is the absence of any reference to the surroundings of the buildings. It is at least as desirable, one would say, that a college should look collegiate as that it should look "municipal," and it is certainly desirable that it should harmonize with its neighbors.

This latter requirement, indeed, is the key of the whole position. The plateau upon which the new Columbia is to stand is at present architecturally undeveloped. It is virgin soil. Sites have been secured upon it for institutions representing, in a high degree, the wealth and culture and benevolence of the community. The trustees of the Cathedral secured a site first. They were followed by Columbia College and St. Luke's Hospital, and other institutions will follow in their turn. There was an opportunity here to create a quarter peculiar and beautiful, and the first requisite to this end was that its buildings should have a harmonious character. The Cathedral, as the greatest and most important building that is to occupy the plateau, and the first to be designed, gave the keynote for the buildings that are to follow it; and it is no wonder that, as the other institutions came to acquire sites for themselves in its neighborhood, many should have begun to dream dreams of a fair city set on a hill, and to discern the promise of a newer and far more beautiful New York. It was necessary only that the succeeding builders should take care not to compromise the unity of the quarter by doing violence to the first and the chiefest of its buildings. The dream has already been dispelled, and the promise been rudely broken. The design of St. Luke's hospital is a quite wanton affront to the Cathedral which it is almost to adjoin, and an offence to every disinterested lover of architecture. The architecture of Columbia was distinctly indicated by the history and traditions of the institution, and its ecclesiastical relations as English collegiate Gothic, which moreover is in itself, in its best examples, the most successful of all collegiate architecture, and of this Columbia had already a specimen which loses nothing by a comparison with the best of modern English collegiate work. The style itself, in tasteful and skillful hands, would have harmonized happily with the Cathedral, heightened and sustained the architectural character the Cathedral will give to the quarter and determined the character of such succeeding building as was in the hands of architectural artists. Now for this promise is substituted the promise of another college yard like so many we know, a collection of buildings of various quality and by various hands, of which the best lose by their neighborhood and the worst look even worse than they would look alone. That the quadrangles of Columbia are likely to be bordered with "municipal classic" does not brighten the prospect. It is rather a threat than a promise, like the threat that is in course of fulfillment, to adjoin an ugly Ludovican building to the Cathedral. It is too bad.

A Fine Display in Brick Construction.

The well-known firm of M. Gibbons & Son, contracting builders, of Nos. 318 and 320 Columbia street, Brooklyn, have just placed a striking and handsome exhibit in the Building Material Exhibit, conducted by THE RECORD AND GUIDE, at Nos. 276 to 282 Washington street, that city. It consists of an elaborate design in brick, laid up in mortar, the purport of which being to represent, as the sign above it reads: "A sample of the construction work done by this firm." The design was sketched by a well-known architect. In its execution, wrought out by the combination of numerons styles and colors of fine front and moulded bricks, the best examples of base, cornice, face, arch and ornamental work is successfully shown. The whole is a substantial and solid piece of workmanship, skillfully done and in a manner highly ereditable to the exhibiting firm. It is a display replete with suggestions, and parties who may be contemplating building would do well to first inspect this model work.

* * * *

The Department of Public Works will receive proposals until Wednesday next, December 20th, at noon, for regulating, grading, curbing and flagging the following streets:

121st street, from the Boulevard to Amsterdam avenue.
135th street, from Convent avenue to St. Nicholas terrace.
139th street, from Amsterdam to Convent avenue.
166th street, from Amsterdam to Edgecombe avenue.
173d street, from Amsterdam avenue to Kingsbridge road.

* * * *

The Board of Street Opening and Improvement has ordered that Convent avenue be extended from 150th street to Avenue St Nicholas, and that the entire cost be assessed upon the property benefited.

* * * *

The same Board has ordered that 171st and 179th streets be opened from Amsterdam avenue to Kingsbridge road; 181st street, between Kingsbridge road and Fort Washington Ridge road; Brown place, from East 132d to East 138th street, and Sherman avenue, from East 161st to East 164th street, and that the whole cost of each proceeding be levied upon the property benefited.

* * * *

About seventy owners of property in and near Robbins avenue, on the North Side, have united in a protest to the Board of Street Opening and Improvement against the opening of Concord (or Forest) avenue, from 149th to Kelly street, and the matter has been referred to Commissioner Haffen for a report. The formal objections of the protestants are as follows:

I. The opening of said avenue is no benefit to the adjoining property, as the block between Robbins and Wales avenues is only 460 lineal feet.

II. The cost of opening the avenue stated above will be from $70,000 to $80,000, as there is a lot of old houses on said proposed avenue.

III. If said avenue be opened to 149th street, which is and will be a prominent street, said Forest avenue will have a better outlet than if it opened to Kelly street.

On another page we publish an illustration and description of the new Broadway Cable Building, at Broadway and Houston streets. For this creditable improvement, and the important cable railroad enterprise to which it is a main adjunct, credit is largely due to Mr. John D. Crimmins, long identified with real estate and building interests in this city, and well known to the readers of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

The Lyons Building, at Broadway and Fourth Street.

THE WORK OF A SKILLFUL SPECIALIST IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF FIRE-PROOF BUSINESS BUILDINGS.

Perhaps the most significant feature of the century's development of all the trades and professions is the specialization that has taken place among them. It is not so many years since the title "a good all-around" doctor or lawyer was the highest distinction obtainable in either profession. A "good all-around" lawyer was expected to "try" an intricate question of land titles, with the same readiness and facility with which he would defend a horse thief; the "good all-around" doctor prescribed alike for an affection of the eyes, a broken jaw or a stomach ache—sometimes, perhaps, the same remedy.

So also in the building industry. The good all-around builder was—is still, frequently—expected to build with equal facility a dwelling, a theatre, a business building, or a church. But the course of events in this industry as in most others has led each builder and doctor and lawyer to demonstrate the special branch of his calling in which he is best calculated to operate—to develop his line of greatest facility and skill, the line of achievement in which he is most successful.

The Lyons Building, at Broadway and Fourth Street. Jere. C. Lyons, Builder and Owner

Builders begin their careers in very general work, but it is not be long before they find that they have a special liking for some one distinct branch of the work, especially if their lines are cast in a city like New York, where nearly every structure known to the history of architecture has its counterpart, and will secure his business footing and achieve his best success in that special branch. Thus we have in New York building specialists in house construction, in structures calling for engineering skill, in office buildings and in fire-proof business buildings. The illustration published herewith is an example of the work of a recognized specialist in the construction of modern, high-class, fire-proof business buildings.

It is the production of Jere. C. Lyons, and it stands on the northwest corner of Broadway and 4th street, fronting 19 feet on Broadway and 160 feet on 4th street, and having an L at the rear 60 feet wide and 80 feet deep from the street. As will be observed from the illustration, the building, the plans for which were by Architects Buchman & Deisler, is nine stories high above the street level, and of very attractive architectural appearance. The materials used in the faces of the building are buff brick, limestone and terra cotta, with steel frame work. The window openings, it will be seen, are as large as would be consistent with the dignified appearance of the building, and with the strength and solidity of construction given to it.

The interior construction is of steel with hollow brick and concrete fire-proof floors and partitions. No wood has been used except in the doors and windows and upon the floors. The building is one ot the most complete examples of fire-proof business buildings in the city. It is especially well adapted to the requirements of the dry-goods and notions trades, having exceptionally good and complete conveniences in the way of accessibility, light, heating, ventilating and interior arrangement. These, coupled with the fact that the building, being fire-proof, will carry the lowest insurance rate, will undoubtedly make it easy to rent.

To all intents and purposes it is a double building. While the two parts communicate readily with each other, so that an establishment desiring so much room could have an entire floor, or two or more floors, yet they are easily separated by the main staircase and elevator hall on the street side, 100 feet back from Broadway. Thus, there is a store floor and eight lofts, each 19x100, in the Broadway section, and a store floor and seven lofts, each 60x80, in the 4th street section. Besides the frontage on the street this street section has large window openings on a 10x38.8 light court, which is a valuable and liberal provision for light and ventilation. It is on the easterly side of the extension, where it will do the most good.

The use of and access to every floor is facilitated by three Otis electric elevators. One, a passenger elevator, is near the Broadway entrance; another, a combined passenger and freight elevator, is located near the main 4th street entrance in the main staircase shaft, and the third, a freight elevator, is located near the front at the westerly end, where there is also a second stairway. The stairways and elevator shafts are absolutely fire-proof—there is no combustible material around them. The building is also perfectly equipped for lighting by electricity and gas, and for heating by steam, all the boilers and machinery being located beneath the sidewalks, which are vaulted to the curb line. Ample toilet rooms, fitted up in first-class manner, with flush-out closets, marble lavatories, and floored and wainscoted with marble and tiles, are on each floor near the central entrance, and with window openings on the light court, thus securing natural ventilation; but the ventilation is specially provided for.

There are altogether about 60,000 square feet of available store and office and loft space in the building—or 6,700 square feet on each floor, of which 1,900 are in the Broadway section and 4,800 in the 4th street section—all this besides elevator and hall and toilet-room space. And, in addition, the basement is specially fitted for use as a restaurant, with an outside entrance by stairs from 4th street, near the Broadway corner, and an inside entrance from the store floor. In general details the building will stand the closest inspection. It shows no strained efforts at mere ornamentation, but expresses its character—a building devoted to the uses of the dry-goods, commission and jobbing trades, and kindred lines—plainly on its face. Withal, however, the building is of dignified appearance, indicating the work of the artist as well as the specialist in construction, and is a decided ornament to the conspicuous corner it occupies. The Broadway store and several lofts have been leased ahead to large importidg houses for warerooms.

The Real Estate Exchange Election.

PRESIDENT READ RE-ELECTED—MR. LUYSTER ELECTED A DIRECTOR TO REPRESENT THE BUILDERS BY AN OVERWHELMING VOTE.

On Monday last, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room was held, at the Exchange, and with less than half a hundred members present. The ceremonies were informal, and consisted merely in the delivery of the annual address by the President, Mr. Geo. R. Read; in the distribution of copies of the annual report of the Board of Directors—the substance of which was published in THE RECORD AND GUIDE last week; and in the balloting for a new Board of Directors.

When Mr. Read called the meeting to order, Mr. Philip A. Smyth, of Smyth & Ryan, asked if the item in the report of receipts from the auction room, included the rents of the auctioneers' stands and of sign privileges. He was referred to the Manager of the Exchange for the information. The language of the report seemed to leave no room for doubt on that point. It says: "rents of stands, signs, etc., in auction room, $8,789.39." Manager Hardwick says the receipts from knock-downs was $7,190.09, the balance of the $8,789.39 being rent of stands and signs.

The President's address, was as follows:

"GENTLEMEN—The year covered by our report and balance sheet has been one of panic and financial distress from which the markets are only just beginning to recover. It is unnecessary to discuss the causes which led to this depression, but rather to point out with satisfaction, to the members of this Exchange, that our own market has suffered less than any other, and that its feature has been inactivity, not depression. If there are no eager buyers, there have been but few anxious sellers. The result of this has been that, while transactions have been limited in number and amount, there have been none of those sudden falls in value which other markets have experienced.

"Unfortunately, the most marked depression has prevailed in the case of property offered under foreclosure, and by order of the court. When the sales took place at the Real Estate Exchange the amount of property actually sold represented a large proportion of the entire offerings, whereas, since the sales have been withdrawn to another place, the actual sales represent only a small percentage, leaving the great bulk of the offerings to be bought in by the plaintiffs or parties in interest.

"Naturally, this Exchange has had its share of the general depression. Our dividends for the past year have been only 3 per cent, as against 4 last year, but you will notice from the report that the Directors might have paid a dividend of 3¾ per cent had it not been thought wiser to commence the new year with a good cash balance in hand. As we stand to-day, every liability of the Exchange, outside of the mortgage of $75,000, has been paid.

"Reference has been made in the report to the diminished receipts which have accrued to us from the auction room, and some persons may be inclined to think that we owe our decreased dividends and reduced receipts to the withdrawal of the official sales. So far as the official sales are concerned, they have never represented during the seven years that they were held on the floor of the Exchange a larger receipt than about $2,300 per annum, and that loss we have met and more than met by the economies which we have made in the running expenses of the Exchange.

"With regard to the business which has been withdrawn, I would say that if all the sales which have been held on the grounds or in other rooms had been held on our floor during the past year they would not have represented two-fifths of the business done at the Real Estate Exchange during the years 1889, 1890 and 1891.

"The subject which will, no doubt, be uppermost in your minds is the withdrawal of the legal sales from our floor by the order of the Judges, dated May 20, 1892. You all know how those sales came to be withdrawn. The subject is one exceedingly difficult to speak of, and to speak of with moderation. I think it wise to leave this whole matter in the hands of the new board without comment at this time.

"On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, it is my duty to thank you for the support you have given to the board during the past year, thus enabling us to carry on the Exchange during that time on the lines of its original intention. So long as the stockholders support them, the board will never abandon the idea with which the Exchange was formed, which was to found an organization, the keynote of which should be honesty and fair dealing both between the members and between the members and the public, and which would create for real estate such a market by the confidence acquired in it, as would make it the most easily realizable, as it certainly is the most secure of any form of investment."

The voting for Directors began at 1.30 and continued till 3 P. M., but it was over an hour later before the result was announced, and then the members were treated to a surprise. About 330 members voted, polling an aggregate of 42,716 votes. About a quarter of the whole number voting must have plumped their votes, 130 apiece, on the only man who was running in opposition to the regular ticket—Mr. C. W. Luyster—for of the total vote Mr. Luyster received 11,605, or more than 25 per cent, and more than any candidate for the Board ever received. The balance of the vote was as follows: Edwin A. Cruikshank, 4,409; William Cruikshank, 2,860; J. Romaine Brown, 2,700; George R. Read, 2,650; Horace S. Ely, 2,370; Hermann H. Cammann, 2,220; Samuel F. Jayne, 2,180; George De Forest Barton, 2,102; Frank Yoran, 2,090; Clermont L. Clarkson, 2,080; Richard V. Harnett, 1,910; Douglas Robinson, Jr., 1,850, and Alfred E. Marling, 1,690. Mr. Marling thus, was the most modest of the regular candidates and failed of election. He had previously announced his willingness to remain off the Board. By Mr. Luyster's election the right of the Builders to representation on the Board, as a representative branch of the real estate industries, was more than vindicated.

On Tuesday, the new Board held its first meeting and election of officrrs, with the following result: President, George R. Read—for the third term; Vice-Presidents, Horace S. Ely and Wm. Cruikshank; Treasurer, George De Forest Barton; Secretary, W. Robinson, Jr.

Questions and Answers.

THE ELM STREET IMPROVEMENT.

NEW YORK, December 12, 1893.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will THE RECORD AND GUIDE please enlighten all of its readers who are interested in property below 14th street what action has been, can or will be taken in the way of assessing one-half of the costs of the Elm street improvement on property below that street.

When must we act if we feel aggrieved. Can we rely upon you to keep us posted. Yours respectfully,

REGULAR SUBSCRIBER.

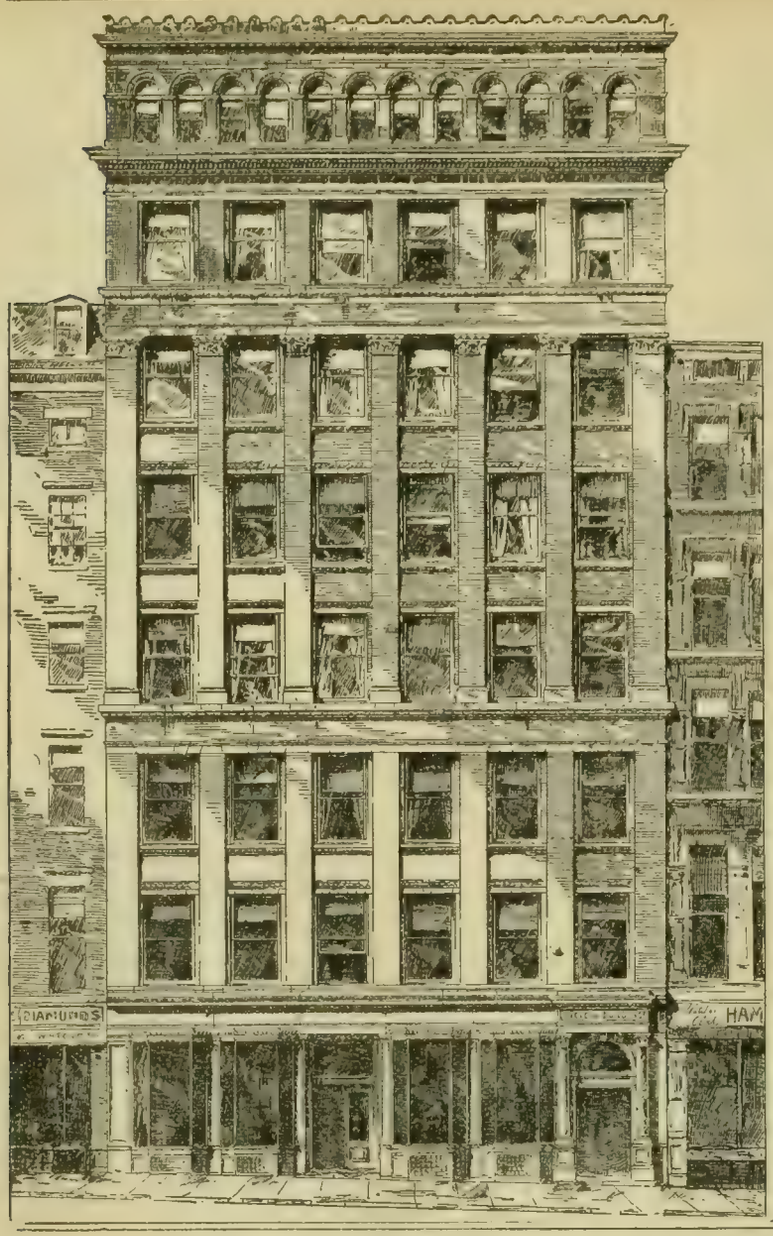
This matter has not advanced a single step since September 15 last. On that date the Board of Street Opening and Improvement, by resolution, requested "the Counsel to the Corporation to take the necessary proceedings, in the name of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, to acquire title, whenever the same has not been heretofore acquired, for the use of the public, to the following lands, tenements and hereditaments that shall or may be required for the purpose of opening, widening and extending of Elm street, from City Hall place, near Chambers street, to Great Jones street, opposite Lafayette place;" and

Resolved, "That one-half portion of the cost and expense of said proceedings shall be assessed upon the property deemed to be benefited, and that the remainder of such cost and expense shall be borne and paid by the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York."

At the same time the Board recommended the following area of assessment for benefit for the opening, widening and extending of Elm street:

"Beginning at a point in the centre line of the block between Reade street and Water street, from Whitehall street to Dover street, east New Bowery, to half the block between Madison and Monroe streets, to one-half the block between Market and Pike streets, to half the block between Allen and Orchard streets, to half the block between Avenue A and 1st avenue, to half the block between 17th and 18th streets, to half the block between 5th avenue and Broadway and University place, to 4th street, to half the block between Wooster and Greene streets, to 100 feet north of Canal street, to 100 feet east of Broadway, to Whitehall street, to centre of block between Pearl and Water streets."

Since then the matter has been in the hands of the Corporation Counsel. He has not yet made application for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, presumably because the city authorities have no desire to hasten the matter now that they have got it where they can control it. The recommendation of the Board of Street Opening and Improvement, regarding the area of assessment, would not be conclusive on the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, but there is no instance on record where it has ever been disregarded.



RAMIFICATIONS OF ELEVATED RAILROAD "INFLUENCE."

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

SIR—I see in morning papers there are eight judgments against the "L" road corporation monopoly, giving owners their just damages, because not tried before juries by which owners cannot obtain a fair trial, because of the influence of special detectives employed to defeat owners (corruptly, in my judgment). I have won twice, very small verdicts, for damages, on 3d street, southeast corner 6th avenue, because of exceptions taken to be tried again. This corporation, through lawless detectives' influence corrupting a single juryman, causes an unjust decision. I would like to know, from you, if the rent damage suits could be by any means tried before a judge, without a jury? Will legislation be required to amend the law?

GEORGE W. DEAN, 1375 Boston avenue.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE is assured by an attorney of large experience in the class of cases referred to in Mr. Dean's letter, that there has been a decided improvement in the character of the juries drawn to try these cases since Commissioner of Jurors "Barney" Martin gave way to Commissioner Noonan, and that there is a fair chance of litigants securing even-handed justice in their actions against the "L" company. If there was any understanding between Tammany Hall and the Elevated Railroad Company about these suits and about the rapid transit question, as has been believed by many persons, we are told that it was dissolved some months ago. Our informant says that George Gould refused to contribute to Tammany's "campaign fund" at the last election, and Tammany has withdrawn its "protection" and is allowing litigation to take its natural course, and is not now directing the course of the Rapid Transit Commission. There is no way of obtaining a trial of the rent damage suits before a judge and without a jury, except by agreement of both parties and the consent of the judge. Under the constitution the defendant has a right to have his case tried by a jury.

The Stevens Building.

NO. 3 MAIDEN LANE.

Maiden lane is the home of the Wholesale Jewelry trade in this city. Efforts have been made from time to time to extend the limits of the district, and houses have been established in adjoining streets, like military outposts in a new country. But Maiden lane remains the centre of this important industry, and a jewelry house located at the centre of trade enjoys trade advantages that will never go to the frontier houses. To provide adequate accommodations for this thriving industry the old buildings in which the business has for generations been housed are gradually being replaced with more commodious and substantial structures. The larger and more valuable stocks carried in these days require the utmost possible safeguards in the way of fire-proof buildings, strong construction and, at the same time, adequate light in which to show merchandise.

The illustration published herewith is of the latest and newest of these buildings. It is the Stevens Building, at No. 3 Maiden lane, one of the most popular trade centres in the street. It is a substantial and imposing structure of eight stories, designed and built expressly to meet the wants of the Jewelry and Diamond trade. The construction is of steel frame with massive walls and fire-proof floors and partitions. It is supplied with every adjunct of a first-class office building, including Otis electric elevators, steam heat, mail chute, electric light wires, special ventilation and high-class sanitary plumbing. Six large windows on each floor, set well out, overlook Maiden lane and furnish ample light, while the five upper floors have north light also, and the top floors have windows on all sides. Alfred E. Marling, of No. 64 Cedar street, who has the management of the building, says the floors will be rented as a whole or will be divided to suit the requirements of tenants.—Communicated.

USURY—AGENT'S COMMISSION ON LOAN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) Can A receive a commission from B for loaning him money at 6 per cent on bond and mortgage? In other words, can principals deal directly with each other, and the one who has the money to loan receive a commission and be free from all liability of accusation of usury on the ground of receiving more than he is entitled to? (2) How can this be accomplished to comply with the law? (3) Can a man, acting as agent, take a commission and place a mortgage in his wife's name and be free from question of usury? (4) Can his wife later transfer the mortgage to him, and then will he be free from usury?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) We do not seek in these columns to instruct our readers how they may evade laws approved by the community. (3) Yes. He may act for his wife in such a matter as he would for a stranger. (4) She may later transfer the mortgage to him, and yet he may incur no penalty of usury. If, however, the borrower can show that the transactions, as a whole, were intended as a cloak or cover for the purpose of evading the usury laws, then the husband might incur the legal penalty. The question of good faith enters largely into the proposition.

The Useless Circular.

The following letter, which appeared in the American Architect, of December 9th, is commended to the attention of our readers. The amount of money wasted annually on circulars that one never read would, could it be arrived at, startle the "business" men who expend it. It is certainly safe to say that at least three-fourths of all the circulars issued are never read. A very casual inquiry among architects and others who are "circularized" would prove this.

CIRCULAR VS. ADVERTISEMENT.

BOSTON, MASS., November 29, 1893.

To the Editors of the American Architect:

DEAR SIRS—A few weeks ago I received a circular, showing what seemed to me some admirable radiators for direct-indirect steam heating—just what I have wanted many times within the last few years. The circular went at once into the waste-basket, where about half a bushel of similar ones go every day, not because they are not valuable, but because, even if I had room to store them, it would be utterly impossible to find any given one when wanted. Now I have an urgent demand for a good direct-indirect radiator, and cannot recall where to find the best that has yet come to my notice. Could you put me immediately on the track of these, if you recognize them from the description, and very much oblige.

Yours very truly, BOSTON.

[We are human enough to rejoice mildly that this particular manufacturer seems likely to lose a customer by reason of his own irrational business methods.—EDS. American Architect.]

Notes Gathered Here and There in Brooklyn.

The city is about to begin condemnation proceedings to acquire the two blocks bounded by Dwight, Richards, William and Sullivan streets as an addition to the Twefth Ward Park. The last Legislature passed a bill authorizing the acquirement of the property. Commissioner Brower's offer of $1,200 a lot was rejected by the owners of the property. A portion of the original site of the park has not yet been secured by the city, because the Cutting estate has refused to accept Commissioner Brower's offer $1,600 per lot. Condemnation proceedings will also be instituted to secure this property.

The Cable Building.

NORTHWEST CORNER OF BROADWAY AND HOUSTON STREET.

The transformation of old properties in the business section of the city has been watched with increase of public interest during the last year, perhaps because the movement has been more general and extensive than before, and has seized upon some of the most conspicuous corners in the city. Sentiments of civic pride have prompted this public interest, for the unspoken question in every mind has been: "Will this building be a credit to the city." If the builder has cheapened his structure, or too manifestly sought for immediate profit, or has built without reference to the future of the district, as sometimes happens, the popular verdict is adverse and disappointing.

To the credit of the city it can be said that the work of the builders during the last year, especially on the conspicuous Broadway locations, or on the locations on Broadway which their season's work has rendered conspicuous, has been worthy of the city. The new system of fire-proof construction, with steel columns, girders and beams, hollow brick floor arches, partitions and light masonry walls, has effected such vast and material improvements in modern business construction that there is every inducement that economy can suggest for building on strong and artistic lines and for rebuilding the old areas promptly. No excuse remains for building cheaply or meanly on any New York City property. The man who does so is likely to meet a just compensation in cheap and meagre receipts from his property.

Conspicuous among the modern buildings that are fast imparting a new and grander appearance to Broadway is the Cable Railroad Building, on the northwest corner of Broadway and Houston street, and extending through to Mercer street, after plans of McKim, Mead & White, an illustration of which is published herewith. Seen from a distance it towers conspicuously above all its neighbors, and its architecture expresses distinctly the highest achievement of the art in this country at this time. Intended not only to provide for the wants of the Broadway Cable Railroad Company, but largely for leasing for commercial purposes, it has established the standard of excellence in architectural style and construction for its district so far above all the older buildings that future effort in reconstruction, if it but equals this, will make of this portion of the ci[illegible] business district in the world.

Most people in New York City are not aware that in the co[illegible] tion of this building separate foundations were laid for the ponderous cable railroad engines and machinery from those l[illegible]id for the giant superstructure. The excavations for all the side walls and sustaining piers went more than 46 feet below the level of Broadway. In the process of construction it was necessary to undermine and sustain an adjoining seven-story brick wall, running through from Broadway to Mercer street, and to extend its foundations 15 feet farther down into the earth. All this precaution has resulted in a structure so solid and so independent of the cable power works that not the least particle of vibration or jar is felt in any part of the structure. The running of a freight elevator in any one of the older buildings occasions more jar and vibration by far than is felt in the Broadway Cable Building all day long.

The building occupies an area 127.6½ feet on Broadway, 200 feet on Houston street and 128.8 feet on Mercer street, and is eight stories in height, with a pent house of iron on the roof. The exterior of this magnificent structure is a product of American genius adapted to the needs of American commercial interests and is influenced by the Italian Renaissance in its style and proportions, which was adopted by the architects for its refined and graceful features and for the pleasing contrast which it offers to other forms and to the neighboring structures. As yet there are few examples in the city of this order, affording as it does a wide display of art and good taste. Nearly the entire ornamentation of the splendid cornice, the escutcheons surmounting the main piers with their caps and bases, the running band courses, the archivolts and keystones and architraves and mullions and jambs of the openings of the facade are of white Perth Amboy terra cotta, no better nor more refined example of the judicious use of which can be found in the city.

The body of the structure is built of yellow brick and white terra cotta, while the first and supporting story is of Indiana stone, which harmonizes admirably with the other materials above mentioned.

On the Broadway facade the elevation is admirably treated by a series of fine, great arches. Starting at the sixth story, with piers running from architrave to water table above these openings, is a series of ten smaller arches running in pairs. These extend from the sixth story to the architrave. The openings in these arches are large and well proportioned, and afford ample light and convenience for all the exacting needs of a modern counting-room. On the Broadway facade the entrance is marked by a wide and well proportioned porch, supplied with two polished columns of pink Melford granite.

The cornice and architrave of the porch and the caps of the col

The Cable Building, Broadway and Houston Street.

The running ornaments of the entrance are exquisitely carved ..... Surmounting the charming and inviting entranceway is a round ornamented opening, making the centre to a group of two strongly modeled figures, which from their appearance and position are strongly suggestive in many ways of the great seal of the Empire State. These figures are 11 feet in height and are worthy of especial notice.

The other facades—on Mercer and Houston streets—are each treated in the same manner as the Broadway facade—with the arches dominating and the other features subservient and placed to conform with them.

The architectural effect of the whole at once appeals to the spectator for its consistency and beauty of treatment and its evident loyalty to the order employed.

In the basement and extending out to a cavernous vault under the roadway of Broadway, are located the enormous engines and machinery by which the cables of the Broadway railroad, from Bowling Green to 36th street, are operated. The two upper floors of the building have been planned in offices, nearly all of which have been already rented. Three fourths of the offices on the eighth floor are occupied as the General or Executive Offices of the Metropolitan Traction Company and its auxiliary corporations. In an iron pent house on the roof are a kitchen and dining-room, for the accommodation of the officers of the company, and the household apartments for the engineer in charge of the cable machinery, and of the janitor and his family.

All the rest of the building, embracing six full floors, is devoted to mercantile business uses. The main or street floor has been occupied some months by a leading firm of clothiers and haberdashers. The second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth floors are available for any of the lines of business which find their natural centre in the wholesale dry-goods district, either the commission, importing or jobbing trade in dry-goods, woolens, clothing, notions, millinery or any of the collateral branches of trade or for manufacturing lines. Each one of these floors has an area of 20,000 square feet, equal to the floor space of an ordinary five-story double business building. In addition to this it has all this space on a single level, every corner of which has direct light. The practical merchant will appreciate the many advantages of having his store space all on one level, where every department can be kept under close observation from the office. The economy in time in the handling and showing of goods is not the least of the advantages of such an arrangement. Another advantage is that a better display can be made of a stock of goods spread out over a wide area, such as may be obtained on these floors, than is possible in a store of many floors.

The conveniences provided in the Cable Railroad Building are as complete as have ever been afforded by even the best equipped office buildings. A wide hall leads from Broadway to the elevators and main stairs. This hall is paved with mosaic and wainscoted with Tennessee marble. There are two Otis passenger and two spacious freight elevators, and adjoining the passenger elevators are public telegraph and telephone offices. A large delivery room on the Mercer street side has the entrances arranged so that trucks can drive into the building and load or unload at a platform, adjoining the freight elevators under cover.

A spacious light court in the middle of the building is divided through the centre by a series of gallery passages, one at each story, communicating directly between the main hall fronting the passenger elevators and the Houston street side of each floor. There are entrances to each floor also at either end of the main hall. Toilet-rooms finished in marble, and of ample accommodation for a large number of people are on each story. Electric and gas lighting, steam heat and mail chutes are other conveniences provided.

The building is accessible by the Broadway Cable Road and its connections, from Harlem, from the South Ferry and from the principal ferries on the East and West sides of the city, for a single fare.

The floors will be leased entire, or will be subdivided into stores or offices, by fire-proof partitions, to meet the wishes of tenants. Mr. Hans S. Beattie, former Surveyor of the Port, and now treasurer of the Broadway Cable Road, has charge of the renting of the building. His office is on the eighth floor of the building, and to him all applications for store or office space should be addressed.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Matters in the real estate market continue to be favorable to the buyers' side, if plentiful offerings at low prices can be so considered. Opportunities to buy property of nearly every kind, that is as morally certain to return the investor a good profit when general business recovers its equilibrium, are not scarcer than they were a week ago. Some people there are who are professedly waiting for better classes, even the best class, of property to make its appearance on the bargain counter. We think they will have to look in vain. Business is just now waiting on Congress. If Congress is at all mindful of the voice of the people, Business will not have to wait long. Some action upon the tariff is felt to be inevitable, and Business only asks of Congress "That which thou hast to do, do quickly." Real estate is in as comfortable condition to stand the strain until this question is settled as is any other form of property. There would be no excuse for selling income-producing real estate for less than its normal value, and unless in the way and for the purposes of liquidation it will not be done. But other forms of New York realty, of nearly equal choice as investment media, and much of which would return a better percentage of profit, are plentiful just now, and at bargain prices. No one looks for much improvement in the market until along in February.

HOLDING A RING MENACE OVER SHERIFF-ELECT BUTTLING.

A conference on the subject of transferring the Kings County Sheriff's sales to the floor of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange was held on Monday evening last at the Exchange, between the Sheriff-elect and a committee of members composed of Leonard Moody, John A. Ditmas, George W. Chauncey, Cornelius Dunellan, David Barnett and Jere. Johnson, Jr. The committee explained to Mr. Buttling the advantages of such a change and the added convenience it would be to the public. Mr. Buttling made no positive promise but he left the committee under the impression that he favored the change. It is current rumor among the politicians that if Mr. Buttling should make the change the Police Justices who are under control of the McLaughlin ring would punish him for thus depriving "the Boss" of a large part of his yearly revenue by committing all their prisoners to the penitentiary instead of the county jail. As the Sheriff derives a revenue of something like $35,000 a year from the feeding of jail prisoners, it would seem that he had a question between inclination and interest to settle in this matter. If a way can be found to checkmate the ring's justitial tools no doubt Mr. Buttling could be relied upon to make the change. Otherwise the Legislature might—perhaps should be appealed to.

PERILS OF TRADING WITHOUT A BROKER'S ADVICE.

The hazards that attend trading in real estate without the assistance of an intelligent broker were never better illustrated than in the case reported in the daily papers on Tuesday of the woman who built a house on property belonging to another. A builder name not mentioned—by some blunder, started a house on lot No. 79 in Bradhurst avenue, near 154th street, supposing it was lot No. 44, which he owned. When he discovered his blunder, he made ostensible sale of the property last spring to a Mrs. Shanks, but conveyed to her the lot which he really owned. Mrs. Shanks innocently went on and completed the building, a four-story flat, and has been collecting rents from it. The real owner, a Mrs. Williams, visited her property one day last week and was naturally amazed to find a new flat house on it. She is of course master—or mistress of the situation, and Mrs. Shanks has only the vacant lot, No. 44, to show for her investment. Such a blunder could never have happened if a competent broker had been consulted in the transaction.

PROPERTIES ON THE BARGAIN COUNTER.

The attention of investors is directed to the announcement of Hall J. How & Co. in our advertising columns. Any one who knows this firm needs not to be told that any announcement made over their name may be accepted without hesitation for what it purports to be.

On Friday, December 22d, Richard V. Harnett & Co., will sell at auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, the property, 40.1½x55.6, on the southeast corner of Houston and Allen streets, with two-story and attic brick front frame buildings.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

We are informed that an offer of $500,000 for the Hotel de Logerot, 5th avenue and 18th street, has been made this week and refused. This improves, considerably, the prospect that the numerous creditors who have liens against the property will some time receive full payment of their claims. It would take about $450,000, it is said, to pay all the liens and encumbrances on the property.

Gustavus L. Lawrence has purchased from the Skidmore estate the five-story and cellar brick store, Nos. 341, 343, 345 and 347 Washington street, on the southeast corner of Franklin street, 60.4x100.4. The consideration includes alterations made under a long term lease.

Gutwillig Bros. have sold the five-story brick store and lofts, Nos. 39 and 41 Ann street, adjoining Nassau street, size 32.11x37.2x36.4x38.2. The price is reported at $65,000, which the sellers say is incorrect.

The five-story apartment house, Nos. 78 and 80 Christopher street, 50x60, has been traded by Mrs. Mary Ryan at $58,500 with G. & H. Corn for the store, No. 17 Bond street, at $90,000. Messrs. Corn have retraded the Christopher street flats at $58,500 with Philip Braender for the four four-story dwellings, Nos. 45 to 51 East 92d street, each 17x55x102.2, at $98,000. The last transaction was negotiated by M. Kayser.

S. Kempner & Bro. have sold the five-story steam heated flat, No. 129 East 17th street, to Dr. Foster at $42,500.

Raubitschek & Co. have sold for Charles Tillman the five-story double flat, No 207 West 40th street, near 7th avenue, at $38,000, Mr. Tillman taking Hoboken, N. J., lots in exchange. Messrs. Raubitschek & Co. and W. H. Stafford negotiated for E. Huerstel to R. Guggenheimer and S. Marx the sale reported last week of the southeast corner of Greenwich and Dey streets, Mr. Huerstel taking in part payment No. 852 1st avenue and five lots on 134th street, near Willis avenue. Total consideration, $130,000.

Charles Martin has sold the five-story brownstone tenement, 25x80 x100.5, No. 441 West 48th street, for Mrs. D. Lang, to Mrs. Mary Houstman for $23,500.

Riley & Crakow have exchanged for Thomas Byrnes the dwelling, No. 143 East 49th street, with J. M. Garry for the double flat No. 244 East 128th street.

A rumor was in circulation yesterday that O'Reilly Bros. had sold three lots on the south side of 56th street, near 5th avenue, and that the buyers, father and son, would erect two houses, with frontages of 40 and 35 feet respectively. Inquiry at Messrs. O'Reilly resulted in their denial of the sale.

Gonon & Macdonald and H. R. Drew & Co. have sold for Henry E. Abbey, of Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, the two three-story and basement brownstone dwellings, Nos. 114 and 116 West 47th street, 18.9 x50x100.5 each. Price, $35,000.

S. B. Goodale has sold the five-story dwelling, 21.6x24.9, No. 56 West 24th street, for Albert Salter for $20,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Frank L. Fisher has sold for Ella S. Conkling the four-story and basement, brick and brownstone dwellings, each 18.9x55x100, Nos. 71 and 73 West 69th and 62 and 64 West 70th street, to W. Starling, at $130,000; also, for Dr. A. W. Lozier, the three-and-a-half-story brownstone dwelling, No. 304 West 104th street, 20x55x100, the last of his row, to Mrs. Gottlieb, for $25,000.

L. J. Phillips & Co. have sold for Wm. H. Clinchy, ex-Captain of Police, the lot on 120th street, south side, 275 feet west of 5th avenue.

Frederick Winant has sold the four-story high stoop dwelling, lot 25.6x100.5, No. 36 East 70th street, for Henry Dale, for $36,000.

Hunt & Wendell have sold the four-story brownstone and brick dwelling, 19x55x100.5, No. 63 West 68th street, for Peter Wagner, the builder, to Thomas L. Greene, of Brooklyn, for $31,000.

William J. Merritt, the builder, has sold the four-story dwelling, No. 306 West 87th street.

Trade Notes.

SUCCESSFUL LUMBER AND TIMBER DEALERS.

The East River Mill and Lumber Co. occupy premises at the foot of East 92d and 93d streets that from time almost immemorial have been devoted to the lumber and timber interests, and succeeding to a business established as long ago as 1848 by the firm of Gaylor, Carrington & Co., have met with well-merited success. The company is managed by Mr. Thos. J. Crombie, who is widely and favorably known to our readers, and whose motto is, "To give satisfaction." First-class facilities count for a great deal these times, and only a visit to the yards of the East River Mill and Lumber Co. is needed to satisfy the most exacting that orders placed with the company will be filled to the letter. All kinds of rough and dressed lumber and yellow pine flooring and step plank, as well as kiln-dried North Carolina Pine Flooring are handled, and promptness in delivery, as well as delivery of the quality ordered, is always carefully looked after. For the convenience of customers, new and old, it should be added that the Telephone call is 180, 79th street. The president of the company is Mr. Geo. H. Toop, the well-known iron founder, and the secretary and treasurer is Mr. J. W. Havens, who, with Mr. Crombie, have brought the company to the foremost place it occupies.

DUMB-WAITERS AND ELEVATORS.

One of the questions a builder of town houses or hotels has invariably to settle with every new house is the question of dumb-waiters and elevators. In any such emergency a consultation with R. M. Rodgers & Co., of 228 and 230 15th street, Brooklyn, would be of benefit to the builder, for Rodgers & Co. are manufacturers of and contractors for fittings of this character that are guaranteed for easy running and safe working, and that have stood the test of long use.

PROGRESS OF THE BUILDING TRADES' EXCHANGE MOVEMENT.

The Provisional Committee acting for the Building Trades' Club in its efforts to create a fund for the erection of a "Builders' Building," feel exceedingly encouraged notwithstanding the financial stringency. With no extraordinary exertion on their part they have nearly reached the $100,000 point, and at its last meeting Mr. Casper N. Lawson was appointed its official canvasser to solicit subscriptions.

Mr. Isaac S. Hopper was unanimously elected Treasurer, although no money is to be called for until the amount subscribed is sufficient to purchase the site. The expenses of the committee are being paid by the voluntary contribution of the members of the committee.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—For Common Hards we find a progressive market, with still another raise made on the line of value and receivers in as good humor as the lateness of the improvement would seem to justify. Although some straggling lots came in from along up the river and stock could have been brought from Jersey, if necessary, the source of supply has practically narrowed down to Haverstraw Bay and, the way cold has developed this season, even that point may at any time be shut off. Buyers seemed to appreciate the chances against them and, although they have at no time failed to find a few cargoes available, they also discovered that holders were thinking well enough of the stock to ask 12½@25c. more for it and refuse to sell unless the advance was paid. This has brought the top rate up to $5.50, above which there seems to have been no first hand deal, down to the present writing. It may be added, however, that prices are only for fresh arrivals of stock, as at current valuation owners of the covered loads find no attraction and have not entered into competiton for current custom. They of course expect considerable more money later on. Pales have not found much demand and while quoted about as before are very largely in a nominal position at the moment. Inquiries among the various operators in regard to quality quite generally elicit a favorable response and a feature of the entire season shown in good average condition of stock is still retained. The fair trade doing in odd lots for export during the fall seems now to be falling away somewhat.

GLASS.—There is a limited and uncertain demand for all kinds of glass, and the market throughout does not appear to have much chance for any immediate improvement. Factories continue to renew production and somewhere near 1,100 pots are now said to be in operation, but that is in part due to the necessity for keeping faith with workmen rather than to hopeful feeling in regard to business. Quotations are to a large extent nominal, because in the majority of cases no one thinks of adhering to list figures, and special rates are adjusted to pretty much every deal of any importance that is made. Plate and cylindor glass both show the same general features. The proposed changes in the duty on window glass by the tariff schedule now under legislative consideration, naturally continue a source of much discussion, and until the matter is positively settled the market can hardly be expected to have any regular form. Some operators estimate the proposed reduction in duty as high as 50 per cent, but more generally the notion is that the priming will range from 37½ per cent down. It is also believed that the date for the commencement of whatever changes may be decided upon will be fixed as late as midsummer at least.

LATH.—With some stock peddling out in small lots and a few cargoes meeting with attention there has been a moderately active and apparently about a steady market. Some discrepancies occur in statements made occasionally and there is a suspicion that lowest figures accepted are not in all cases made public; but as we close it looks as though $2.10 was lowest, with a possibility of a fraction more in exceptional cases. Of course there is the usual claim of scant amounts on the way, with fair reason to believe the story at this season of the year.

LIME.—The new conditions existing through which the supply is controlled by a single agent of the combine makes a very simple market. The price is fixed, and when custom wants Maine product it has only to step up to the captain's office and settle, unless outside makes come in competition at lower figures, and of that there is no indication. Nevertheless there are many burners in the interior who are keeping a sharp weather eye upon the market here in hopes of getting in when business becomes more propitious, and the St. John people, who have been able to ship stuff with the duty at a much higher rate than proposed in the new tariff bill, of course expect to get in a great deal of fine work if the reduction is made and goes into effect during the coming season.

LUMBER.—The general market tends to narrower proportions every day, and even after the best of seasons a quiet tone would be expected at about this date. Operators generally desire to clear up the deals of the year as far as possible, and set their house in order for the next campaign, and in natural sequence arises an indisposition to enter upon new obligations or even tentative negotiations until some basis of calculation can be found. So far as the immediate past is concerned there is little or nothing to add to what has been said over and over again for weeks. Certain grains of comfort and slightly relieving features may be found in the record for the closing year, but the substance of them seems to be simply that matters might have been worse, and operators draw as much comfort from that as possible. Turning toward the general outlook the majority are still slightly perplexed. In the natural order of things there should be a fuller and healthier trade with consumers as soon as the new year fully opens, but there seems to be a fear of delay in realizing any such result, and until builders and manufacturers are ready to renew their attentions it is hardly reasonable to expect that much attention will be given full parcels except as suggested by the force of most imperative necessity. In addition, too, there is to be considered the probable more or less protracted debate over the proposed revision of tariff which will naturally induce the postponement of a great deal of business until there is a final decision upon the question of import duty. Current arrivals are about all coastwise and few and far between at that.

From all primal points come reports of a stronger tone prevailing in consequence of natural influences of the period. Many markets are entirely closed and others find means for distributing stuff so much curtailed that they cannot accept orders unless some allowance is made for the difficulties in the way of delivery. We notice some conflict of statement regarding the probable amount of work to be done in the woods this winter. Generally it is assumed that a light cut has at least been intended, but in some cases operators have acted as though intending to get out as many logs as possible upon the idea that they are working a quiet little game to take advantage of the scarcity likely to follow the action of their more conservative competitors. Of course, if only a few follow out that plan it is likely to pay should the markets improve, but the many cunning ones will defeat the object intended, especially when it is taken into account that there are a great many old logs and a large amount of old lumber left over.

So far as local range of valuations is concerned, the position remains, to a great extent, nominal. Operators, in all cases, now name additions sufficient to balance the increased transportation charges common to the season, and would compel payment from buyers who might make a direct call for goods, but there are very few buyers doing anything of that kind, and when it comes to placing stock through solicitation from the selling side, the customer who gets it is very poorly posted if he fails to obtain, also, an allowance on valuation, bringing cost down to about fall rates. Exporters are not calling for many or extensive amounts, but they find the supply held steadily and the ownership of a character likely to carry rather than modify cost, especially as the accumulation on hand has been carefully selected and is of staple attractive character.

Since the original draft of the new Tariff bill was made public, the committee has made several amendments, and on the revision the lumber stands as follows: Duties are restored on plain lumber at the rate of 50 cents per thousand feet for each side planed, $1 for planed, tongued and grooved on one side, and $1.50 when planed, tongued or grooved on both sides.

It was also decided by the committee that a supplementary paragraph shall be added to the lumber schedule providing that nothing in the present bill shall repeal sections 15 and 16 of the existing law.

This section provides in brief that "the produce of the forests of Maine upon the St. John and St. Croix Rivers and their tributaries, owned by American citizens and sawed in the province of New Brunswick by American citizens, the same being unmanufactured in whole or in part, shall be admitted into the ports of the United States free of duty."

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Now that navigation has closed on lakes, rivers and canals throughout the northern half of the country, and business operations have been arrested by inclement weather, we can count it as a fact that the season of active trade has been finished. Hereafter, until midwinter shall have passed, we should look only for a moderate and small order demand, for the completion of unfinished building, and for such factory requirement as may continue.

From all northern markets comes the information that the year's business is about done and that manufacturers and dealers will devote the few days before holiday time to straightening up their affairs preparatory to entering on the business of the new year.

At Chicago the cargo business of the season of 1893 has been a disappointment. In this respect it has shared the condition of nearly every other important line, as a result of the June panic and following financial stringency and industrial depression. The lumber trade has stood up against adversity as well as any other interest, and in some respects better. Yet it has suffered in shrinkage of demand and decline in values.

Now that the season for receipts of lumber in this market has nearly closed, the conditions that have pertained to supply and demand and to present resources can be taken into account. Up to November 25 the total receipts of all kinds of lumber at this point had been 1,489,884,000 feet as compared to 2,066,112,000 feet at a corresponding date last year. Thus it is seen that the decrease this year, as compared to last, has been 576,238,000 feet. Receipts of shingles for a like time this year were 225,462,000 against 376,278,000 last year, indicating a comparative falling off this season of 150,816,000. These figures are significant of surface conditions and may mean something that will signify much to future operations.

At the Chicago yards the tendency is to hold prices firmly. Piece stuff is based on $12 for short lengths. Long joists are relatively cheaper than short lengths, and some complaint is heard about price cutting on some recent sales of large bills for local building purposes. Fencing is selling at $15 for No. 1, and $12.50 to $13 for No. 2. There is a call for No. 2 and No. 3 boards from the box factories. Stock width boards are considered good property. Factory lumber is not in active demand, neither is there an excessive supply. Norway fencing is probably as plentiful as any kind of stock.

In sizing up conditions of the poplar market a great deal depends upon the point of view which one takes. It is claimed by dealers in Chicago, St. Louis and other western distributing points that they can buy all the firsts and seconds they want at $28 delivered. This is undoubtedly true, but on the other hand some of the larger manufacturers claim they are able to get from $28 to $30 at the mill for their product. As a matter of fact prices are only nominal, and the ability to get a good figure depends entirely upon the urgency of a customer's requirement. In a large portion of the field prices are down to about the basis current in the spring of 1891, and will remain there until there is a more active demand. This much is certain, dry poplar is comparatively scarce, and the curtailment of log input so large that better prices may be confidently looked for next season. So sure are the larger manufacturers of this fact that they are holding on to their good lumber, unless it can be disposed of at nearly association prices.

In view of the interest evidenced by a number of manufacturers in the formation of national rules of hardwood inspection, Secretary Winchester suggests that an opportune time to place it upon a working basis would be at the annual meeting of the Poplar Manufacturer's Association, as a large proportion of its members are more or less interested in the general hardwood trade. He does not wish to be understood as suggesting that the poplar association take up the matter of national inspection as an organization, but to direct attention to the fact that at that time and place there will be an assured attendance of a large number who are heartily in accord with the plan.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman has the following:

Logging operations from all reports received by the Lumberman are progressing favorably in the woods. In northern Minnesota the ground is in a good condition and the only hindrance reported is in the Duluth district, where too much snow is on the ground for successful hauling. On the Black, Chippewa and Wisconsin rivers and their tributaries, the ground is frozen solid, and the recent snowfalls have greatly aided the work. From Wisconsin come reports of increased logging operations by the many smaller concerns, and while the larger companies will greatly curtail their cut, it will be nearly made up by the work of the smaller operators. On the upper Mississippi the curtailment will be nearly as large as was early contemplated.

While no one points out any particularly good results that may come from removing the duty on lumber, still even those most directly interested fail to show where it is going to result to the serious injury of the lumber trade of this country. So much shouting has been done against free trade that some people fear it for no other reason than that they have heard political orators descant against it. If lumber is placed on the free list, and the duty which was reduced one-half by the McKinley bill is entirely removed, the next few years will demonstrate whether it is such a serious matter as those with high tariff views, from theory only, would make out.

One encouraging factor in the lumber trade at present is the disposition on the part of the owners of any amount of lumber to keep it in stock until better prices prevail, and the sales that are now being made are not at last summer's prices, except for the better grades for which there is no demand and some manufacturers are long on. As far as boards and dimension are concerned in the Northwest, and especially at this point, sales are now being made at some considerable advance over the prices that prevailed a few months ago and a further advance may be expected before the spring trade opens up. Another thing that must be taken into consideration is the fact that stocks are even now badly broken at many places in Minnesota and Wisconsin and are likely to be much more so before the first of April.

NAILS.—Although there has been no gain in the general line of value the volume of business was pretty full, and especially so for wire nails. That is the result in part of exceedingly low cost, which seems to have an attraction for operators who can afford to put away supplies which they consider a fair investment calculated upon a basis of natural trade wants. It is, however, hardly expected that either wire or cut nails will make any substantial gain until base material increases in cost. We quote Cut at $1.00@1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.20@1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.20@1.30 for car lots, and $1.60@1.65 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—For the thoroughly staple lines of stock there is a little demand of perfunctory character coming from custom compelled to fill in assortment for working purposes and that, with certain deliveries on contract, constitutes about the only basis for movement of goods. It is a seasonable influence, intensified by the reflection of recent trade prostrating events and no change for the better can reasonably be calculated upon until after the opening of the new year. The market, meanwhile, is free from any noticeable effort to realize, because of care taken to adjust productions to existing conditions; yet, there are exceptions to the rule, with some curiosity felt as to the manner in which holders will dispose of their surplus. Prices, generally, are unsettled and nominal, and while old quotations may be retained, the cutting of price on actual sales is constant. Corroders' rates stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 7¼c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6¾c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 6⅝c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 6½c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c.; and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil retains more or less of the usual feature of irregularity on low grades, but for the staple makes and higher qualities quite a steady feeling is preserved and offerings are kept within the boundary of natural requirements of the market. We quote at 41@42c. for Western, 43@45c. for City from domestic seed, and 61@62c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has not been very active, but the supply continued moderate and under very good control, with prices ruling firm all around and the offering indifferent. We quote at 29½@30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—From most sources of consumption the demand comes slow and careful as a rule, with buyers evidently intending to act as conservatively as the conditions will admit, and at this season they admit of pretty light investments Supplies, however, are not so extensive as to cause much if any inconvenience and values on the whole are somewhat firmer. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

VOL. LII. DECEMBER 23, 1893. No. 1,345

THE vigor with which prices on the stock market have been depressed and the extent of the decline of the last few days should be an indication that a rally at least is near at hand. Of course no check to the decline can come yet if a quarter of the disquieting rumors that are afloat are true, but rumors of that class have a trick of disappearing as soon as they have effected the purpose for which they were put into circulation. For any sustained advance a better feeling in the business community is needed. It is now three or four weeks since the public had this latest attack of despondency which has been fed by the reports of the condition of the laboring classes in our great cities by anticipations of more than the usual number of failures as a result of the closing up of the year's business and by the disasters recently reported in the banking and railroad worlds. The closing of the St. Nicholas Bank is supposed to have had no influence on the market, but such an event always must be a disturbing influence; like death, the suspension of a bank always comes as a surprise somewhere. The prevailing suspicion and disquiet have been proof against all the denials of financial difficulties made by Atchison officials, and with its securities coming on a narrow market in the way they have lately done the credit of the company may be undermined and it may have to seek the protection of the Courts, which it would not have done had its security-holders placed more reliance on the word of the officials than on that of professional bear operators whose best opportunity for profit is in ruin. It is said, however, on good authority, that the Company only yesterday promptly met a demand to take up one loan with a certified check and declined the offer of another of a million of dollars at 6 per cent. But between the official statements and the quotations for the stock and bonds of the Company the Street prefers to draw its inference from the latter. People in general business, as well as in the stock market, are more inclined to look upon the gloomy side of the situation, and if the saying that when things appear most desperate they are on the mend could be taken as always true, the present time is one in which the horizon might be hopefully scanned for the coming improvement.

THERE is an appearance of high-handedness about the manner of closing the St. Nicholas Bank that has aroused some adverse comment, due largely to ignorance of the difficulties involved, but, as the Bank Examiner's action has the indorsement of the representatives of the Clearing House, it must be taken that it was justifiable. Ordinarily, the impairment of capital has been much greater than is yet shown to be the case, in the affairs of the St. Nicholas Bank, sometimes going to the point of extinction and endangering deposits before the Bank Examiner has intervened to protect depositors, and such delays have called down severe criticisms on that official. If now he has acted on good grounds, knowing the impairment of the St. Nicholas Bank's capital would not be made good, to protect depositors while there was a good margin for their benefit, the business public has every reason to be satisfied with what he has done.

IT is curious how impracticable nine persons out of ten become the very moment they allow themselves to touch upon the subject of rent considered in relation to any public matter. Clergymen, particularly, are easily unbalanced by it, and, indeed, we know of no cleric indubitably sane on "rent." Clear thinking on that subject is apparently incompatible with divinity. The latest example of clerical incapacity is furnished by Dr. Stanton Coit. Speaking this week about the suffering that exists at present in this city among the unemployed he declared that one of the chief hardships these people have to bear "is the greed of the landlords." "What is most needed is an effectual appeal to the landlords." Far from objecting to any call to any class at any time for practical sympathy for the unfortunate, we believe that one of the blessings of hard times might be the more hearty and real acknowledgment by people of their human relationships to one another by the sweet offices of charity and forbearance. But, underlying Dr. Coit's utterances is the assumption either that landlords are a specially circumstanced class particularly chargeable with the duty of being their brothers' keepers or that as a class they are harder-hearted and more grasping than others. As Dr. Coit cannot possibly believe the latter we will dismiss it at once. As to the former we would like to have the good Doctor tell us whence comes the special obligation why the landlord should forego his rent more than the baker the price of his bread or the butcher and tailor the market value of their commodities? Wherein are these cases different? Charity undoubtedly should be enjoined upon all men at times like these, but why more upon the landlord than upon others? The landlord is not an isolated self-sufficing being. Has he not debts to pay, taxes to discharge, family expenses to meet, interest account to keep clear? When the Municipality demands its taxes will it promptly discharge the Landlord of his indebtedness when he shows that his tenement house is filled with tenants from whom he is not exacting any rent? Will the insurance companies, from whom the Landlord has borrowed perhaps 60 or 70 per cent of the cost of his property, be satisfied with a like exhibition of their borrower's charity? Can the Landlord pay his own rent and the expenses of his own family by the issuance of a properly substantiated general assurance that not one of his tenants is paying rent these hard times? We are afraid that, hard times or not, if he does not pay his bills promptly his creditors will not long allow him to accede to Dr. Coit's appeal and play the role of charitable landlord.

EVERYTHING, of course, is fish for the politician that comes to his net, and consequently it was perhaps inevitable that the attention of the country should be distracted from the consideration of serious domestic affairs to that washerwoman wrangle which has been dignified with the title of the "Hawaiian question." We believe that the public ceased long ago to have any interest in the matter. When it first appeared under the guise of an application for protection from a monarch-ridden people, promising what, to the uninformed, seemed to be important territorial aggrandisement, the popular imagination was tickled and the jingoism, which goes by the name of "patriotism" these days, was aroused sufficiently to be interested for a moment in the internal affairs of a petty Pacific island. It was a new foreign toy. In a short time, however, we found that the island is further from the Golden Gate than the first conceptions of an imperfect geography placed it, that there was a great deal of pure "business" mixed up with "annexation," in short that the United States had little if anything to gain by meddling in other people's affairs. This result was arrived at early, and in the intervening time all the talk and botheration about Hawaii has been "politics," an effort to get somebody's dirty linen washed in public. It would be well for the country could the rank lot of politicians in Washington be kept wrangling over this really insignificant and distant matter were it not that they had unfortunately raised previously other questions which immediately concern the welfare of the people at large, and bickering about Hawaii would serve only to delay the settlement of these. The country can afford to let "Hawaii" wait until the Tariff bill is disposed of. That out of the way, the Nation can take its ease while one party struggles to prove the other incompetent, imbecile, dishonest, unpatriotic, and Heaven knows what else. Who cares?

REPRESENTATIVE WARNER'S resolution authorizing the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds to make a thorough investigation of the condition of the Federal buildings in this city and such general recommendations as the case should call for after examination has been reported back to the House with a recommendation that it be passed. In making this recommendation the Committee shows how necessary it is that the whole system of housing the Federal business in this city should be thoroughly overhauled and improved where necessary by removal of present buildings and the re-erection of others on the same site, by disposing of sites of buildings now occupied and carrying the work to points where it can be done better, and by judicious groupings of buildings on new sites to secure better administration. As to the necessity for reform in this matter there is no question whatsoever, and it need not be discussed. The housing of a large part of the government's services in this city is a crying shame, though it does not cry loud enough or the right people do not do the crying. In one public building after another, it is said, the employees are so crowded and the quarters so unfit for occupancy, from a sanitary point of view, that it is only their Federal ownership that has kept the Board of Health from condemning them and clearing them out. In the Central Postoffice alone some three hundred people are constantly employed in rooms twelve feet below the sidewalk, with no light from the outside and in an atmosphere stifling and foul. Obviously the officials who suffer these dangers and inconveniences can be only faintly heard. But the merchants and manufacturers and the public that includes both and that cannot transact its business in this city with the government without inconveniences can make its voice reach to Washington with the best of effects if it chooses. There is no reason in the world why the city that receives two-thirds of the imports and ships one-half of the exports of the whole United States, where two-thirds of the customs are collected and where the Sub-treasury does a business two and a-half times greater than all the other sub-treasuries put together should put up with accommodations in which these enormous transactions take place which are a quarter of a century or more behind the times in the matter of structural improvements and designed for a business many times less than what is now done in them. These are the practical considerations; there are also others of nearly equal importance. In meeting the necessity for better Federal buildings in this city, if the work be done in a comprehensive way, an opportunity will present itself, as the Committee on Public Works and Grounds point out, for the development of civic architecture on a basis never elsewhere attempted, It is urged, too, that in dealing with this matter in a generous and spirited way economy can be consulted as well as the more important considerations of the health of the employes and convenience to the business public. In fact the arguments are all one way. What is wanted is that they should be urged with the proper force and from the proper quarters that will bring them convincingly home to Congress. A representation here and there will not do. It must be a request from all quarters led by representative bodies whose word will command respect. It is a matter which from one point of view the Real Estate Exchange could take up and from another on which the Chamber of Commerce might very well make itself heard in the support of Mr. Warner's resolution for a committee of inquiry.

The Condition of Business as Reflected by the Clearances.

PROBABLY the most comprehensive indication of the condition of business is the return of clearances from the great monetary centres of the country. While it is true they represent speculation as well as trade, and allowance must be made for the repetitions of payments that the first involves, there are no other statistics so available from which a general idea of the immediate state of business can be obtained. They reflect, too, the severity of trade depression, as well as the extent of its prosperity, with the advantage that they appear at frequent intervals and permit general conclusions of the state of trade of the time at which they appear, not being presentiments of conditions long past as is usually the case with the statements whose issue is delayed either owing to the difficulty of their preparation or the red tape entangling the bodies that produce them. Thus there is no better way of learning the extent of the depression that affected the business of the country this year, or the extent of the recovery therefrom, or the probability of a relapse or the influence of the discussion of tariff changes on general business than a reference to the reports of the clearing houses of the country.

The monthly totals for this year are a neat and concise epitome of the trials through which the business of the country has passed, and the more recent figures show that there is a recurrence of the hesitation and nervousness that did so much damage last summer, due doubtless to fears of what Congress may do in its handling of the tariff, and which ought not to be without influence on the minds of our legislators. Otherwise the later figures are not without suggestion of encouragement, though it would be rash to draw much hope from them for the immediate future, seeing into what a mood of gloom the business public has been plunged by the publication of the terms of the Wilson Bill following a brief period of cheerfulness. If the party in power could be made to understand the significance of the clearing house returns it would see very quickly that the conditions are entirely changed since the nation accepted its pledge and warranted a reopening of the tariff question. Just now the business community desires opportunity to recuperate without any regard to individual opinions on questions relating to tariff and revenue.

In the year 1892 the monthly clearings of New York and the country at large outside of New York made large gains over the corresponding months of 1891, with the exceptions of the months of September and October in New York alone, where considerable decreases, explainable probably by a falling off in speculative transactions were made. It is, therefore, necessary to remember when examining the figures for this year that the comparison is made with the exceptionally good returns of 1892. In New York only two months' business of the eleven for which returns have been made for the current year showed gains over the same months of 1892. These were January and May, when respective gains of 0.4 per cent and 2.5 per cent were made. In the other nine months the comparative declines varied from 0.3 per cent in March to 33.07 in September, which gave the lowest volume of clearings for the year. But outside of New York all of the first five months increased the clearings, varying from 1.6 per cent in February to 12.5 per cent in January in comparison with the same months of 1892. Consequently it may be inferred that a large part of the falling off in business was due to inactivity on the Exchanges and actual business for the first part of the year was good. From June to November, both inclusive, the falling off was heavy both in and out of New York, the percentage being: For New York, June, 6.5; July, 7.2; August, 22.7; September, 33.7; October, 27.6; and November, 29.1. Outside of New York, June, 10.0; July, 15.0; August, 29.8; September 26.7; October, 23.1; and November, 21.1. The depression of the year saw its culmination in New York, in September, when the clearances were only two-thirds of what they were in the same month of 1892. The rally from that depression was substantial in the month of October and held its own in November, though it would have almost undoubtedly increased but for the ill-advised agitation of questions of the tariff, as will be afterwards shown. A comparison of the returns one month with the preceding one is even more interesting and encouraging, except for the fact last mentioned. In New York the clearings for February were 13.8 less than in January, 5.9 per cent more in March than in February, 13.6 per cent less in April than in March, and 8.8 per cent more in May than in April. From June until September the declines were continuous, until the whole exchanges of the month were about half what they were in the first and best month of the year, the figures being, for January $3,561,441,412 and for September $1,841,195,599. October, however, saw an increase of 21.0 per cent over September and November an increase of 1.2 per cent over October. Outside of New York the decline in February's clearances from those of January was 15.5; March's increased 7.3 per cent over February's; April's decreased 1 per cent from March's, and May's increased 3.9 per cent over those of April. Outside of New York the culmination of the depression was a month earlier than in New York and did not involve so large a shrinkage of clearances. The worst month was August, with a total of $1,412,757,914 against a total of $2,393,363,511 in the best month, January, and while the rise was not so prompt as in New York, being only 6.5 per cent in September, it became more substantial, the clearances of October being 26.2 per cent better than those of September. However, the standstill came to the country at large in November, as it came to New York, the clearances of that month, outside of New York, being only 1.8 per cent better than in the previous month. That this hesitation is due to fears of disturbing legislation can be justly inferred from the weekly course of the clearances for November which are set out in the following table:

It will be seen from the above figures that November opened with a fair promise of an increase of the improvement that was seen in October. In the first week the percentage of loss compared with the same week of 1892 was substantially less than seen in the month of October. The next week covered the election and the interruption to business thereby occasioned, while the following one represents the cheerfulness that was manifested on all sides by the results of the polling throughout the country. The next two weeks begin with the publication of the terms of the proposed Wilson Bill, and end with a more severe percentage of decline compared with the same time last year in the clearances, not only of New York, but outside of New York and the country as a whole, than was seen at any time during the depression of this year. This is most marked in the returns that reflect general business in largest proportion, namely, those for the country excluding New York and the United States as a whole, for, while the volume of clearances in New York for the week ended December 2d were at least a little better than one of the other weeks given, in the other cases they were without exception the worst. For the week ending

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

There has been very little in the real estate market this week to call for comment. The impending holiday season, the approach of New Year's, with its annual settlements about which there is more or less apprehension, the general business stagnation and the depressing rumors and occurrences in the financial market, have made this usually dull week duller than usual. It cannot, however, be said that business is any less encouraging than was expected by the best posted observers six weeks ago. Only the infatuated boomer is being disappointed and discredited. The fact is that the market is nearing the expected turning point, and, as that point draws nearer the volume of business will decrease, because both the buyer and the seller are disinclined to act. What will come after the holidays and after the test to which all forms of business are to be subjected—in the annual settlements, payments of interest and dividends, trial balances, etc., is impossible to divine. If the tariff agitation could be settled or avoided at once there would unquestionably be more confidence. As it is, it appears as if the present stagnation would hold through until about the first or middle of February anyway. Then the business world will know the very worst of the conditions about which there is so much apprehension and will be able to lay out its future course with intelligence. In the meantime there are many who believe that if holders of West Side vacant property are alive to their real interests they will be less insistent upon high prices for their holdings and will give builders who are able and willing to re-embark in building operations some show for a profit on their undertakings.

BROOKLYN REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE ELECTION.

CITY CHAMBERLAIN O'DONOHUE CALLING IN BROOKLYN LOANS.

City Chamberlain Joseph J. O'Donohue has been the cause of some commotion in Brooklyn realty matters. He is the custodian of about $1,500,000 of court funds, which the law requires him to keep invested for the benefit of the litigants. Of this sum something less than $100,000 is loaned on mortgages on Brooklyn property—placed by one of his predecessors. About six weeks ago Mr. O'Donohue's lawyers, Messrs. Wensley & Gilroy, served demands on the twenty or so Brooklyn mortgagors, to pay the principal and interest of their respective loans. Some Brooklyn brokers have expressed the conviction in heated temper that this is being done by the Chamberlain for the sole purpose of giving young Mr. Gilroy, a son of Mayor Gilroy, a bit of profitable law business. Mr. O'Donohue ridiculed the idea. He said yesterday that he had taken the steps indicated because he did not believe that any such funds should be loaned outside the judicial district in which the moneys were accumulated. He had instructed Messrs. Wensley & Gilroy to deal leniently with the Brooklynites—to give them three or four months in which to pay off the mortgages—but that they must be paid. He said Wensley & Gilroy had been his private attorneys before he became City Chamberlain and that the proceeding would have been taken in any event. He did not doubt the perfect security of all the Brooklyn loans, although an effort to foreclose one of them recently has resulted in a failure to secure a bid for the property.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL IN THE MARKET.

The law committee of the Board of Aldermen reported on Tuesday in favor of permitting the trustees of the Women's Hospital to sell their present property between 49th and 50th streets, on Lexington avenue, for the purpose of applying the proceeds to a new building on 8th avenue, between 92d and 93d streets, provided that twenty-four free beds be maintained in the new hospital to be used by poor people; but a sufficient number of aldermen were not present to pass the resolution, so it was laid over.

A CITY LEASE FOR SALE.

Comptroller Meyers will sell at auction on Thursday next, December 28th, at noon, at his office, room 15 Stewart Building, the lease for nine years and six months, from November 1, 1894, of the property No. 18 10th avenue, corner Little West 12th street. The upset price is $3,250 per annum.

A GOOD INVESTMENT PROPERTY FOR SALE.

Mr. James Livingston, of No. 75 West 93d street, advertises for sale the five-story brick store and tenement, 18.4x60, No. 521 3d avenue. It is on the east side of the avenue, one door south of 35th street, convenient to the 34th street L station, and rents for $2,000 a year. There is a mortgage of $17,500 on the property.

A SUPERB DISPLAY OF CHINA, GLASS AND FANCY POTTERY.

Among the many improvements which have been made in recent years in the furnishing and equipment of American homes none is more remarkable than that which has been effected in glass and china. These serviceable essentials to a well-appointed home have come not only to rank high among the objects of household art, but are regarded as indications of the good taste of those who order its affairs. When purchasing either for themselves or, at this time of the year, for Christmas presents, our readers should not fail to inspect the superb stock of china, glass and fancy pottery which Wilhelm & Graef have now on display at their store, Nos 1141 and 1143 Broadway, corner of 26th street. This firm offer, to note only some specialties, the largest choice in the city in Dresden, Berlin, Worcester and Coalport chinaware—all articles in all styles of these celebrated makes—and a magnificent collection of table glass at prices varying from $1.50 to $13.50 per set. Indeed, speaking of prices, the noteworthy fact is that in purchasing of a first-class firm like Wilhelm & Graef artistic products are sure to be secured at prices no higher than those of the tasteless goods offered at second-rate stores. The capital reputation and ability of the firm are the purchasers' guarantees. Messrs. Wilhelm & Graef's store is well worth visiting at present if only as an exhibition of the latest and highest results of the Ceramic, Pottery and Glass-making Arts.

Questions and Answers.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly give your opinion on the following deal, whether the agent is entitled to his commission: A employed B to exchange his plot for a private house. B procures C, owner of a private house, and consummates the exchange between A and C. Between contract making and taking title, A goes to C and makes a new trade on a different piece of property and produces a dummy (his brother-in-law) and takes title on the private house—without saying a word to B (broker). Is B entitled to commission? BROKER.

Answer.—Since a contract was made, as you state, between A and C (it must have been in writing to have "consummated the exchange)," the broker, B, had found a customer for A, whom A had accepted, and B is entitled to his commission, no matter what new bargains or trades have been made since.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A has three houses which B is anxious to lease and asks C to effect his object. After several interviews with A and B separately, C brings all parties together. A asks a rent, B objects and offers less. Finally C names a rent to which A and B agree. A lease of five years is granted. The gross rent is $11,400. What commission is C entitled to and from whom? All agree to leave it to you.

Answer.—The custom of brokers on effecting a lease for years is to charge 2½ per cent on the first year's rental and 1 per cent on the rental for each succeeding year of the term. This would make the legal commission on five year's lease at a rental of $2,280 per year, $148.20. Upon the facts as stated we think A should pay this commission.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please reply to the following: Broker rents a house to A, takes a deposit and reference; latter, subject to the approval of the owner, which reference has proven first-class, but before the owner says he will accept or refuse A as a tenant A writes to the broker that he cannot take the house as his present landlord would not release him on a lease expiring in May next, and for this reason says he forfeits the deposit. Now, who is justly entitled to the amount of the deposit which does not quite equal the broker's commission had the prospective tenant been accepted by the owner prior to A forfeiting the deposit, and in the meantime no other parties asked to see the house with the view of renting. SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—As "the minds of the two parties," the landlord and the proposed tenant, would seem "not to have met" before the withdrawal of the latter, we think that neither one is bound to pay any commission, but that the deposit should be returned.—LAW EDITOR.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

Claims aggregating $3,634,945 have been filed with the commission appointed to ascertain the amount of the damages suffered by private property from the depression of the tracks of the Harlem Railroad on the north side.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING PLANS.

It was privately reported during the week that the advisory committee of architects of the Municipal Building Commission had finally reached a conclusion on the six prize winners, and would report to Mayor Gilroy in time to make some one of the competitors a fine Christmas present. Mayor Gilroy said yesterday that he had as yet received no information from the advisory committee and knew nothing about the matter. But he expects a report at almost any time.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Common Hards are again higher, and although the price has been pulled up rather than advanced on the merits of natural demand, the market is placed in a firmer general position. The change was brought about through the action of Haverstraw manufacturers, who at an organized meeting resolved to fix the line of value at $6, and have since adhered to it, with other makes taking the benefit and following up closely. Down to Thursday it was generally understood that buyers had refused to submit to more than $5.75, but just at the close we had information that the $6 plane had been reached on actual sales. That, however, is the fixed rate at the moment, and will probably be adhered to for a while. As yet the supplies have not fallen off as much as anticipated, most of the arrivals coming from Haverstraw, but some from above, and the market had more than it really needed, especially as the demand failed to increase. Indeed, from the present outlook it would seem that future conditions must depend a great deal upon the offerings and the manner in which consigners order them to be handled. There is nothing to warrant an assumption of an early increase of call from consumers in any locality even should the weather prove open and favorable for work, and as dealers are not possessed with the notion that it is a good plan to accumulate a supply only the solid closing of the river would seem likely to put the market thoroughly on its feet. Pale bricks have not much demand and only a scanty offering and no one seems to know exactly what the stock is worth at the moment. Fronts of all kinds remain steady, but seasonably quiet.

GLASS.—The following has been received from Millville, N. J.: "On the first of January the two largest window glass manufactories in Bridgeton will close, throwing several hundred men out of employment. There is no sale for the glass, and all that is being made is packed away in warehouses."

LATH.—It has been a quiet and uncertain market and the price evidently depending largely upon the operators attempting to start a deal. A buyer expressing desire for stock would have to pay 2.10@2.15, possibly more, according to quantity and delivery, while a seller seeking custom could hardly escape the necessity for shading the figures named. The quantity offering has not been extensive, but the general demand continued light and in some cases only because it was a trifle handier to handle arriving parcels than to disturb the collections under shed.

LIME.—Some little stock has come to hand from the eastward, but it was taken care of readily enough under present arrangements and peddled out in the small lots as wanted, from time to time, by the regular trade. The price remained unchanged and there is no intimation that it will be varied for the present. In other makes, we learn of nothing important doing just now, but the market is carefully watched, with a chance that if opportunity offers, a great deal of outside stuff will come along.

LUMBER.—Business is so nearly at a standstill as to leave the market without features upon which it is worth while taking up report upon the different grades of stock in detail. Whatever may be needed for actual consumption is already in the hands of those who have to use it and the practical suspension of demand for bulk lots makes it fortunate that there are so few of the latter now offering. Valuations in a general way differ very little from about the rates that have been asked since the close of navigation and superficially conditions look steady, but any direct attempt to realize would compel concessions and no one is better aware of it than those who under increased offerings would have to play the part of a seller seeking custom. Of course no one conversant with the business, and what would seem to be a normal value for staple descriptions of stock, either of coarse or hardwoods, would for one moment suggest that current cost deters buyers from negotiating, for, as a matter of fact, there are a great many people who have ample faith that a large percentage of chances are in favor of investments upon the basis of the decline that has taken place during the past six months. But it requires no recapitulation of recent experiences to substantiate the suggestion that the speculative spirit is a decided rarity in the body commercial just now, and lumbermen are simply in step with the business community in general when they prefer to resist all temptations and remain passive until after the opening of the new year at least. There is even an indisposition to talk much about the tariff because of the vacillation that has been shown in preparing the bill and the chances of still further changes after legislative discussion.

There is a healthy inclination to feel hopeful regarding the general outlook, but no conservative operators are allowing their commendable desires for an improvement in trade to overcome their judgment in abstaining from assuming too positive a position as yet. No one has an idea that the experience of 1893 will be repeated, but it is quite uncertain as to what extent and how rapidly general consumption may recuperate, and until that key note to the entire situation can be fairly and thoroughly sounded it is considered best not to pitch a positive time for action.

When business does get a fair start, however, not only here but at other cities on the seaboard there is a chance for some pretty lively dealing and quick handling of values. Generally stocks are small, and where there are exceptions to the rule the holding is by operators who are not likely to be in any hurry to realize, and therefore competition is expected to act as a stimulus, though to that view of the subject the ever-present objector rises to remark that possibly accumulations at primal points may be sufficient to cause a rush of stocks the moment there seems to be use for them. Most of our responsible exchanges, devoted to lumber interests at primal points, we notice, are inclined to speak cautiously at the moment. They quite generally assume that on the natural merits of present supplies and sources of supply against prospective demand the line of value can hardly go lower, but are as evidently just now a little doubtful about consumption, about the amount of work in the woods, and as to just how far the question of import duty is to become a factor during the next season.

At the meeting of lumbermen's associations held in this city this week, the main question was to determine if possible the difference between a wholesale and a retail dealer. The wholesale associations adopted the following:

"A 'wholesaler' is a dealer who buys in large blocks from manufacturers, or the direct agents of the manufacturers, or carries large blocks on commission, and sells to retailers and to consumers in quantities that they would not naturally be supplied with by the retail trade."

The question "to whom shall a legitimate wholesale dealer sell?" was answered as follows: "He can supply the retail trade and the consumer in such quantities as a retail dealer could not supply."

Then the wholesale and retail delegates got together and adopted the following:

"We recognize, as wholesale dealers, and as such, entitled to the exclusive patronage of the retail trade, those persons who sell within those States to other wholesale or retail lumber dealers only. We recognize as retail lumber dealers, those persons within those States who purchase lumber from manufacturers and recognized wholesale dealers, who own or operate a lumber yard where a stock of lumber is at all times kept for sale to the public, and who are not themselves engaged in building, or otherwise consuming lumber in competition with the usual customers of a retail lumber yard.

"We recognize the necessity of wholesale consumers in other lines buying lumber in large quantities at wholesale prices, but no wholesale lumber dealer shall solicit or sell to such trade, until the character of the business has first been determined and officially declared by local registration to the whole trade, by the Board of Managers of the Retail Dealers' Association, in accordance with the by-laws of the State (or, in New York, of the Metropolitan District) in which such establishment is located, and such record shall be open to known members of the Wholesale Associations only. We believe that the interests of the wholesaler, retailer and consumer will all be conserved and protected by an acknowledgment of the rights of each, and a united purpose to maintain them all; and to that end we recommend the favorable action of the Associations which we represent.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

In the wholesale markets, and at prominent mill centres in the northern half of the country, the coming of winter has reduced trade to extreme quietude. Operators and dealers are now closing up their affairs preparatory to holiday festivities and the annual casting up and balancing of accounts. They do not expect anything in the line of new business for a month or six weeks. Buyers have mostly dropped out of the market, and there is less inquiry about future stocks than is usual at this season.

It is evident that the proposed removal of the duty on Canadian lumber is being anxiously discussed by Eastern dealers. Letters which have reached this office are to the effect that dealers have resolved to buy little more lumber until the tariff question has been settled and are glad that they are carrying lighter stocks than usual. In the West the prospects in respect to the tariff have less influence than in the East, though here and there individuals express themselves as in doubt about their future course in buying and are inclined to defer purchasing until free lumber has developed resulting market changes.

It is now evident that the market for mill product will not evince any special strength early in the new year. The demand must first acquire stimulus from the side of consumption. No dealer has faith enough in next year's trade to go into the market in the early months of the new year and buy heavily, as many did this year. But should consumptive demand begin to show a fair strength and volume as early as February, dealers would begin to look about for sufficient stock to carry their trade through the spring and summer. Their first effort, however, will be to work off as much as possible of what they shall have on hand, so as to be on the safe side of the market, whatever may happen in respect to the tariff. As a rule, wholesale dealers think there will be a fair spring trade, because stocks in the retail yards are generally light. They are also counting, to some degree, on the probability that there will be a smaller input of logs this season than last. With these two considerations in view, they are inclined to hold stocks at steady prices, and in some instances there is a tendency to advance figures on certain kinds of lumber. Yet, among the white pine dealers, there is less heard at the present time of a bullish tenor than is usual immediately after the close of navigation. Evidently the dealers would be glad to sell all the lumber they now have in pile at current prices.

The hardwood trade throughout the country is quiet, and prices are generally in favor of the buyer. Good poplar is reported scarce at Ohio River points and southward. Quarter-sawed southern white oak is also in low supply. Cottonwood has accumulated from St. Louis downward, on Mississippi River, and prices are easy. Thick ash is not plentiful, and will be wanted when manufacturing shall revive.

At Chicago yards, in the aggregate the amount of stock on hand is adequate for the trade that is likely to arise. But it is probable that it is somewhat unbalanced as respects individual yards. It is believed that stocks of piece stuff are below the average in former years. Some are well supplied, while others are not. Inquiry between yards for sorts is frequent, more so than usual, considering the amount of current trade. Stocks in separate yards are out of balance. Though it is generally considered that the supply of long joists of all widths is large, it is occasionally discovered that a special call for particular sizes and lengths necessitates a good deal of calling up between yards. It has developed, for instance, that 2x14—24 is out of supply. One concern this week claims to have cleaned up all that it could find in 25 yards. Since dealers fought shy of long stuff during the cargo season, there is a probability that the spring trade will develop a shortage, especially should there be considerable local building demand.

The redwood lumbermen of San Francisco are endeavoring to institute reforms in the market, and the Journal of Commerce of that city outlines and comments upon the plan as follows: All redwood is to be sold through one office, which takes the place of the various offices of the members of the proposed organizations. A certain quota is fixed as the product of each mill, and a penalty of $2,000 is fixed for each and every infraction of this agreement. There are, however, exceptions; mills may supply the home consumption. It has been proposed to portion out the supply at 100,000,000 feet to Humboldt County and 100,000,000 feet to Mendocino and Sonoma. The millmen in these sections can regulate their own pro rata. A guarantee fund is proposed of $2,000 for each mill. This is to be collected by levying an assessment of $2 per M feet on each M feet sold by the association. This will constitute the fine for infraction of the rules as to prices. These are the leading features of the plan. The whole business is as yet in embryo and will have to undergo the test of discussion by all the lumbermen before it stands a chance of being adopted. The rock on which the whole system may split is that providing for a cut of so much lumber by each section. This, however, should not be allowed to stand in the way of a reasonable settlement of the matter. The interests of the trade are too great to allow it to be destroyed by the present ruinous competition.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot for a time following our last regular report continued more or less buoyant in price, with pretty good business doing. Gradually, however, the support became dependent upon speculative confidence only and finally when offerings of stock from second hands appeared the tone weakened, closing somewhat unsettled. On the average range of valuation we quote at 10$\frac{3}{8}$@10$\frac{1}{2}$c. for Lake and 9$\frac{1}{2}$@9$\frac{7}{8}$c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper has been rather quiet of late, and without specially new feature. Some very fair contracts for regulation stock are said to have been booked of late, and the new year will open with a fair amount of work on hand and the chances for a generally steady range of value. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 22c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 23c.; po. 12 to 14 oz., 24o.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 25c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 28c.; do. under 8 oz., 30c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@14 oz., 2c. for 10@12 oz. and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over 22c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 24c.; do. 12 to 14 oz.. 26c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 30c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 33c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 22c. for over 32 oz. and add 1c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 1c. 14 to 16 oz.; 1c. 12 to 14 oz.; 1c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets, not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 22c.; do. 16 to 32 oz., 24c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 26c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 28c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 32c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 22@27c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 25@28c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 27@29c. for 14 to 16 oz. and 29@34c. for 12 to 14 oz. All bath tub sheets, per lb., 16 oz., 26c.; 14 oz., 26c.; 12 oz., 27c., and 10 oz. and lighter, 29@32c. Bolt copper, $\frac{3}{8}$ inch diameter and over, 22c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 26@32c. per lb. IRON—American pig has remained nominally steady. That is, sellers have asked former rates, and quite generally claimed to be opposed to negotiation looking to a modification, yet it is pretty well understood that no desirable customer is permitted to escape until he has left an order if any reasonable concession will secure it. Probably that is most marked in the lower grades of stock where the keenest competition exists. There is the usual talk about curtailment of production. We quote at $14.00@14.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $13.00@13.50 for No. 2 X do., and $11.50@12.50 for Gray Forge. Old material has a very uncertain demand although for some little time of late it seemed almost at a standstill with a not unnatural sequence found in a nominal condition of values, the average tendency, however, in favor of buyers. We quote at $12.00@13.50 for old iron rails; $10.00@11.50 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $10.00@11.50 for cast scrap; $12.50@13.00 for old car wheels, and $6.50@10.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron and steel of various kinds has a slow and unsatisfactory market, judging from the reports current. There are some exceptions apparently where pretty good sized orders went to book for next season delivery, but they stand in contrast to the rule. The general run of value is nominally unchanged. We quote Beams up to 15-inch, 1.75@2c.; 20-inch, 2.10@2.25c. for round lots; Angles, 1.75@1.90c.; Universal Mill Plates, 1.70@1.90c.; Tees, 2@2.15c.; Channels, 1.80@2c. on dock. Steel plates are 1.65@1.90c. for Tank; 1.90@2.10c. for Shell; 2@2.15c. for Flange, and 2.50@2.80c. for Fire Box, on dock; Refined Bars are 1.60@1.90c. on dock, and Common, 1.45@1.60c. Steel rails are getting into rather better form again and the market may be considered as probably settled for the season. A new combination has been formed through which some mills are to be closed and the production of others regulated, and generally conditions about as they were before the break-up of the old combination, except at $5@6 per ton lower basis. We quote standard sections $24 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has turned in buyers' favor since publication of our last report, but without attracting any increase of demand. Indeed, the general run of trading was quite slow and unsatisfactory and the market would not have resisted increased offerings of stock for any delivery. We quote at 3.20@3.30c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 6$\frac{1}{4}$c. for Pipe, 7c. for Sheet, 15c. for Tin-lined Pipe, and 37$\frac{1}{2}$c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin is without really new feature. The demand on speculative account runs careful and for consumption has been confined to small parcels wanted for immediate requirements, prices ruling rather easy. We quote at about 20.60@20.65c. for round lots, and 20$\frac{3}{4}$@21c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate is without increased attention for either prompt or distant delivery and, altogether, has a dull market. Supplies, however, are well in hand and prices well sustained throughout. We quote as follows: I. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.35@6.37$\frac{1}{2}$; Charcoal, Melyn grade crosses, 7.88\frac{1}{2}$; I. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.60@5.62$\frac{1}{2}$; Allaway grade crosses, $6.75; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, 7.37\frac{1}{2}$@7.40; M. F. grade, 20x28, $14.75@14.80; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70@5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.35@11.40; Dean grade, 14x20, $5.35@5.37$\frac{1}{2}$; Dean grade, 20x28, $10.50@10.60; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $51.5@5.20; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $10.10@10.12$\frac{1}{2}$; I. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $——@——; J, B. grade, 14x20, $5.30@5.35; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.60@—— basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares $5.65@—— basis. Spelter has found light and unimportant demand, with an inclination on values rather in buyers' favor. We quote $3.70@37$\frac{8}{8}$c. for Common Western, according to brand.

NAILS.—It has been a dull market. Previous purchasers have about satisfied the wants of all operators who thought well enough of the stock to handle it against the chances of the future, and just now all hands, including sellers, desire to avoid entering upon new obligations. It is understood that few manufacturers have much of an accumulation on hand, and they will avoid production as much as possible until better assured of the chances for consumption. We quote Cut at $1.00@1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.20@1.25 per keg for offers a complete protection against

DRY ROT, FUNGI, MILDEW, MOLD AND CRYPTOGAMS, and is available for both Wood-work and Masonry.

This new substance is a product of the FARBENFABRIKEN vorm. FRIEDR. BAYER & CO., Elberfeld, Germany. It has been thoroughly examined and tested by Professors V. MILLER and HARZ, who have stated that

"ANTINONNIN IS A PEERLESS PREVENTATIVE OF MILDEW."

The Chief Inspector of Buildings at Munich, Herr STETTNER, and many architects and builders, have endorsed this view.

ANTINONNIN is odorless, non-volatile, soluble in water, and makes eligible mixtures with Lime and other distemper applications.

ANTINONNIN penetrates wood and remains in it, forming a perfect protection against fungi, mildew, and continuous dampness.

ANTINONNIN is far superior to Tar Oils, Carbolineum and similar preparations on account of its freedom from odor, its ease of application, its lasting properties, and its EXTRAORDINARY POWER AS A DESTROYER of all fungoid growths and all organisms which favor dampness and mildew.

is the best application now known for the MASONRY and WOOD-WORK of CELLARS, STORE-HOUSES, WINE-CLOSETS, LAUNDRIES, STABLES, WATER-CLOSETS, all OUT-HOUSES, and all structures exposed to the influences of damp.

ANTINONNIN may by mixed with pure water, lime water or whitewash, and applied with a brush or sponge.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Jobbers now and then come upon the market with an ordinary trade order, and there is a regular sort of business going on with operators who make a specialty of dealing with foreign custom, but nothing like animation is shown in any department of the market, and a sort of nominally unchanged position remains. Offerings in the meanwhile are limited in amount, and only full enough in assortment to keep affairs running without friction so far as they run at all and the addition to supplies in first hands will be determined after the turn of the year. Manufacturers and importers will have to be governed by the prospects of consumption and the question of duty. It is still the fashion to retain list figures for a quotation and make deals at special prices, buyers having about all the advantages. Corroders' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 7¼c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6¾c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 6⅝c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 6½c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c.; and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil has not been very active and was at times irregular in tone again, but for the best goods holders seemed quite determined in the effort to maintain a full line of value. We quote at 41@42c. for Western, 43@45c. for City from domestic seed, and 61@62c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine meets with very fair average demand from regular sources and while buyers have of late secured small fractional advantages the general tone of market is about steady. We quote at 2[illegible]30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH. A fairly steady market has been sustained, and so far as it went afforded satisfaction. It is not a period when operators expect much trade, and moderate orders make a pretty good showing in consequence. Offerings have been available at about former rates, but the number of them was small enough to be under control. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

The question is not whether it is better to have the guarantee of a Title by an insurance company or an examination by a competent and experienced lawyer, acting in the interest of his client, but whether both are not desirable for complete security.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company gives both.

To judge of the competency and experience of the lawyer examining, his name must be known; and

To judge of the methods and management of the company insuring, the amount of its losses must be known.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company furnishes both.

LUMBER.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands. Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and even car lots, besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and altogether it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.

VOL. LII. DECEMBER 30, 1893. No. 1,346

IT is probable that in the whole history of Wall Street there has never been a more exciting or more discouraging year to the holders of securities than the one just closed. The collapse of the coal deal came early in the year and was followed, in May, by a wild panic in the industrial stocks, consequent on the bankruptcy of the Cordage corporation. At the close of July came the general panic in which everything was slaughtered. The recovery from that condition was succeeded by a series of violent movements in prices, according to the nature of the news from Washington regarding the Sherman law repeal bill, later came the disturbing influence of tariff legislation, and the year closes with the market depressed under sinister rumors that do not encourage the hope of immediate improvement, though from the very fact of the extremity of the depression there is a hope of better conditions before the coming of spring. If prices had the significance that they have had in ordinary times there would be a recovery right away. The most active stocks are from five to thirty-five points lower than they were at the close of 1892; in one case, Atchison, closing figures are the lowest of the year, not excepting those made last July, and in others they are not much better than the lowest. But no disposition to buy has made itself apparent, while liquidation keeps on and the professional element generally works only one way and that to the detriment of prices. The situation must be improved by so much that was bad having been got out of the way. It cannot, however, be said that values now justify the quotations. There are many things that are indeed cheap. Wall street always acts as if present conditions were to be the permanent conditions. Every one who stops to think a minute can see that the bad trade and poor railroad earnings must have their limits, and bad as they are now and may continue to be for some time longer they hardly warrant the present feeling. Outside of the stock market there are signs of a change for the better here and there, from which hope may be had of still better things to follow early in the coming year. Taking this into consideration and the unreasonableness of much that is being done in the financial world, there is a glimmer of hope of better things when the new year is well broken through.

FINANCIAL condition abroad is not much better than our own, though it is not probable that in other countries the trade depression has deprived so large a percentage of the wage-workers of their living as in this, but then the United States has a Congress that never meets without disturbing business. Still the consequences of national extravagance are everywhere apparent. A few years ago the Argentines were an object of ridicule to the rest of the world because of their desire to go ahead too fast. But to-day it is the greatest nations of the world that would be the subject for mirth if the conditions were not so universal and so deplorable in their effects. There are none to laugh when all are suffering. The United States has to contemplate and provide for a large deficiency at the end of the fiscal year, it has a smaller treasury balance than has been known for many years, and its returns of trade and of imports and exports show a large falling off. Great Britain has to devise means to save India from bankruptcy. Her returns of imports and exports for the year about to close are worse than the unsatisfactory ones made for 1892, while the indications of home commerce drawn from the reports of railroad earnings show how bad business there is. After such examples as these, it is not necessary to revert to conditions prevailing elsewhere, to the embarrassments of Italy, the insolvency of Greece, the uncertainty of affairs in Berlin and Vienna, as shown by the high rates for money prevailing there. One of the aggravating things in connection with this state of affairs, is that there is no cause apparent which may be confidently said to have brought it about. The charge is made, respecting the smaller countries, that they borrowed money too fast and undertook internal developments that were too far ahead of requirements to be immediately profitable. That argument will not apply to the United States that has paid off so much of its debt and has since the collapse of the boom in the South restricted development, or made none at all. Nor is it applicable to Great Britain or its colonies, with the exception of Australia. Here every commercial calamity is traced to the Sherman Silver act or to the Wilson Tariff Bill, and in England the coal strikes are the readiest excuse for an unsatisfactory state of trade On the Continent of Europe the cost of large military establishments is said to be too burdensome for the countries to carry. But why should all the world be plunged into bad times at this particular moment? The load of public debt that other nations have to bear may, though it is hardly possible to conceive it, be as mischievous in its effects as the constant meddling with questions of finance and commerce which none of them understand by the lawyers and farmers who make up the bulk of Congress. But it is difficult to understand why our misfortune should come precisely at the time that those of others arising from different causes do, or in fact why the whole world should have been steeped in a boiling caldron of commercial trouble for more than three years past, dating from the bankruptcy of Argentina. The relations of any one nation commercially with the rest would explain why disaster in one would be reflected on the others in proportion to the closeness of their relations, but it does not explain why they seem all to have got into trouble at one particular time. For a solution of this question it will probably be necessary to look into human nature itself and not national conditions or character to discover the causes of the extravagance and excesses that afflict all peoples alike.

MAYOR GILROY in determining, by pushing city work, to add the aid of the municipality to the very general effort now making to relieve the condition of the unemployed has decided, we hope, upon no half-measure plan. The principle which, apparently, he has accepted is so sound and so much to the interest of taxpayers and of the entire community that we shall be sorry if, after all, his determination does not arise from perception that it is good business policy for the city to actively push work on the improvements it needs at times like these, but from a desire to throw a passing sop to the unfortunate. As we have pointed out before, the present is a peculiarly propitious moment for the municipality to proceed with many of the big improvements which have been in contemplation for years past. Material is cheap; indeed, can be purchased, as in the case of iron, at or even below cost. Labor needs employment. There is also plenty of capital idle awaiting unquestionable investments such as the municipality, should it need to borrow, can offer. Besides—a matter of much importance—in entering the market under existing conditions, for either Capital, Material or Labor, the city will not be prosecuting an expensive competition with its own taxpayers as it does when times are brisk. The free distribution of loaves and old clothing is a favorite method of almsgiving on occasions of depression like the present, but in the nature of things a very large part of such charity is ineffective, as it does not reach the right place. The bummer and tramp is usually the hardest pusher and gets well to the fore in a begging crowd. The soundest charity—though he who pays for it may receive little public or even personal acknowledgment—is that which takes the form of keeping the employed at work to the utmost possible until better days return. Unfortunately it is costly. It is cheaper to "shut down" and make a sounding donation to some fake newspaper charity enterprise.

OUR city may be heartily congratulated on having nipped the smoke nuisance as soon as it appeared. What makes New York bearable is its natural cleanliness? If it had to contend with natural as well as acquired dirtiness, such as Chicago, St. Louis, or Cincinnati, or Pittsburg have, we would soon be in the dreadful condition of chronic muck that they are in. When it is remembered that New York is the largest manufacturing city in the country, it may easily be imagined how soon we should be in a state of unpresentable griminess if every smokestack within its limits had been encouraged to the daily issue of so much sooty blackness as came from that of the Steam Heating Company. The sun and the high blue skies that are of the greatest glories of this wave-washed city would soon have been obscured, and in spite of a situation of rare favorableness our buildings would have been discolored out of all recognition of their original materials, and our citizens have presented the grimy appearance and worn the expression of gloom that is a part of the citizenship of the soft coal regions.

RECENT inquiries have brought out a remarkable want of information in the building trade that may soon be of the greatest importance, and that is the proportions of the employed and unemployed workmen in the trades. There is no way to find out what these proportions are to-day. The difficulties in the way of complete accuracy are great enough to be obvious. Take for instance the changes that are being made from day to day in the different working forces, the movement of the men themselves back and forth between this and other cities either to take or to look for new jobs, and the disinclination of the unions to contribute to the supply of such facts; but it is reasonable to think that there should be a way of securing a fairly reliable approximation of the mechanical force available at any given time. An estimate on which reliance could be placed would be very valuable now, for instance when the depression in trade brings up the question of the measures that may be necessary to induce a revival, and whether the mechanic and laborer should not make some sacrifice for the good of themselves in the good of the whole trade. In such an emergency as this nothing would show better the actual condition of the labor market than the number of the men who have work and those who have none. The idea naturally suggests itself that the trade associations could best supply the machinery for obtaining these figures.

The Architectural League Exhibition.

UPON the whole it may be questioned whether the exhibition of architecture by the League this year is so interesting or so representative as it was last year. One at least of the "allied arts" is better presented than it has been before, by reason of the efforts of the newly-organized Sculpture Society, but the others are not as well shown as they have been before when the glass painters have combined to make an exhibition very well worth seeing on its own account.

One who looks through the galleries for the purpose of finding out even the prevailing fashion in architecture is likely to be bewildered, while if he is looking to detect any serious tendency in American architecture, he will be even more at a loss. It may be assumed that the architects are as much alive as anybody else to the desirableness of a common style, which may impose itself not only upon architects but upon the allied artists and upon artisans and handicraftsmen. But such a thing seems to be further away than ever. There is not only no apparent prospect of a consensus such as at one time it seemed that the Gothic revival and at a later time that the influence of Richardson was likely to bring about, but there is nothing that indicates a prevalence of any style that seems to go any deeper than a caprice of fashion. It is desirable that we should find in an annual exhibition of architecture the signs of something more permanent than we should look for at an "opening" of a fashionable milliner, to which an exhibition of current architecture bears an increasing resemblance, with the striking exception that the fashionable milliners and dress makers are at least all agreed about the fashions. Of course the comparison does a great injustice to the architects, in that it takes no account of the individualities that redeem their exhibition, and gave it a more serious aspect than that of the "openings." The more is the pity that so much effort and ability should be wasted in divergencies that if directed in a common channel might accomplish great things. Meanwhile the one sign of a tendency to be noted from year to year is the increasing influence of Paris upon New York, an influence that is to be traced in our building and still more in the exhibited projects for buildings that are meant to be executed or that are mere academic projects. The "design for a Presidential Mansion" appears to fall into the latter category. It is a well composed and well rendered example of the current works of the Beaux Arts. Who the President is that is designed to be thus sumptuously accommodated does not clearly appear. From the fact that the exhibition takes place in an American city, it might be inferred that it was President Cleveland. From the design itself it would naturally be inferred that it was President Carnot, who would find himself very much at home at least upon the outside of the Executive Mansion here depicted.

One would have expected with some confidence a reflection in the drawings upon these walls of the success of the World's Fair buildings, but the reflection is but faint. Among the students' work exhibited there does indeed appear a paraphrase of the Art Building for an Art Museum, and another paraphrase of the Woman's Building for a hospital. But the most vivid reminder of Chicago is a paraphrase of the Agricultural building, by the authors of that work, which appears here as the accepted design for the Museum of Arts and Sciences in Brooklyn. It is scarcely accurate to call it a paraphrase, though the resemblance strikes every spectator, and comes mainly from the solid corner pavilions, with their crowning groups of sculpture, the central portico and the low domes. The later building shows two facades of very successfully studied classic architecture in which the openings are minimized to the utmost, and the solid piers between them emphasized with an Ionic column, crowned with a statue, attached to the face of each. The extreme massiveness given to the front by this disposition is carried further by a very tall and quite unbroken blind attic above the order. The front, abstractly considered, seems likely to be less successful than the front of the Agricultural building from the absence of the light and admirably proportioned screens between the pavilions that relieved while it emphasized their massiveness and solidity, or of any equivalent measure of relief. That it has been abstractly considered is evident, since in architecture so really classic as this the requirements of a modern building are merely annoying interruptions to a design that exists quite independently of the building. But the impressiveness of the design is none the less undeniable.

That the year of which the results are shown here has been very fruitful in competitions may be inferred from the prevalence of the alluring water color perspectives of Mr. Hughson Hawley, who is commonly supposed to be the only practitioner of any art who derives a regular income from competitions. The presence, however, of a large drawing by Mr. Hawley of the house of Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, as it has been remodeled and enlarged, proves that Mr. Hawley's perspectives are not necessarily resorts of desperation, and may be invoked by an architect in the regular course of an assured professional engagement. The house itself is now about the most conspicuous object in 5th avenue, and its architectural success is commonly agreed upon, though it is also pretty clear that it would have been still more successful if it had been designed as a whole and without the necessity of retaining the original dwelling. The sections that are shown prove even more conclusively than the exterior view, that the problem of the architect has been new in American practice. A great house, designed primarily for "functions," and in which the living rooms bear so small a proportion to the "state apartments," is almost a novelty. So far as drawings can show, the new problem seems to have been solved here with great success.

The American problem of the elevator building is always with us. Various as are the solutions which it may admit, the office building is more and more in the course of reduction to a single type; a front that is fortified at the sides by as massive a treatment as possible and left as light and open as possible at the centre. Last year the exhibition was very noteworthy in this respect, by reason of the numerous competitive designs for the Manhattan Life Insurance Building, an extreme example of elevator building. This year the accepted design is shown in a model as well as in a drawing. It is a scholarly performance, which we may fairly expect to find especially attractive in the detail which cannot be shown in the general drawings. The necessity of "treating" a side wall that is more conspicuous in a general view of the city than the front has been recognized, and the outline from the South will be fairly effective. It may be doubted, however, whether the designers have sufficiently allowed for the violent foreshortening the crowning feature of their design will undergo, when viewed from the other side of Broadway, in the scheme of a recessed centre surmounted with a lantern. In the vertical division the design lacks clearness and emphasis, when compared with some of those that were shown last year. In the lateral division it suffers from the introduction of two openings at each story in each of the flanking piers. In this respect the arrangement adopted in the building of the Home Life Insurance Company, shown here in a large colored perspective, seems to be decidedly superior. The detail of this latter edifice is also effective, and especially commendable in the manner in which the quarters of the proprietary corporation have been signalized. But the show of elevator office buildings is upon the whole less interesting than that of last year.

In church architecture there are two very striking sketches from San Francisco, one of a church of which the front pyramidizes to a battlemented tower, and one of a church, of which the whole pyramidizes to a central hood. The renderings are extremely chic and telling, but they have the disadvantage, or possibly the advantage, of leaving us in doubt about the architecture. That is to say, each design exhibits a notion or an effect that would be very striking if it were brought about by building, but that is comparatively easy to attain in a drawing that leaves us in doubt about the means to be employed. A photograph of the completed structure, to accompany each of the drawings, would afford an extremely interesting study and would show whether the designer was as accomplished an architect as he is, or has, a draughtsman.

There are several interesting examples of institutional architecture. Not even a smart water-color can make the new St. Luke's Hospital architecturally attractive, while to one, who considers what its surroundings are to be, and especially its proximity to the cathedral, it becomes positively repulsive. The new quadrangle of Yale is shown as two blocks of substantial mansions, entirely decorous and respectable, but with nothing of a distinctly collegiate character about them. On the other hand the new Vanderbilt dormitory at Yale, shown in a pen-drawing, is an unmistakable and a very delightful example of collegiate architecture. It is much to be hoped that the Trustees of Columbia may give their careful consideration to this design before they proceed with the project that has been commended to them of erecting "municipal" edifices on their new site.

IT is to be hoped that it is not so, but the indications for the time being are that the next Legislature will adjourn again without putting Brooklyn in a line with modern cities in the matter of its law for regulating building within its limits. As a matter of fact the City of Brooklyn, ranking among the chief cities in the United States in point of population, now has no building law that answers to the modern acceptation of the term; such rules as it has for its own building being colonial if not mediæval in form, so that as one gentleman who has interested himself to secure reform in this respect put it: Brooklyn is the dumping ground for all the pale brick and defective building material in the country. Some of the buildings lately built near if not within the fire limits should not be permitted outside of a country village and then only on the score of impossibility of getting better. This peculiar condition of affairs obtained full exposition last year when a bill was introduced into the Legislature to put the Brooklyn law somewhat in conformity with the law that now regulates buildings in the City of New York, which bill unfortunately failed to pass for want of time to get it engrossed and before the Legislature for a final vote. Its admitted necessity and its unpartisan character had assured it passage if it could have been reached before the time fixed for adjournment. While not all that was required in many particulars, pointed out at the time, it would have been a step in the right direction, and its failure to pass was, therefore, generally regretted by all who had taken an interest in the matter. This bill was prepared by Col. T. B. Rutan, Commissioner of Buildings for Brooklyn, and supervised by a committee appointed by Mayor Boody, consisting of: F. C. Moore, President of the Continental Insurance Company of New York; W. H. Hazard, President of the Fulton Bank of New York; William J. Fryer, Chairman of the State Building Law Commission; and Messrs. Bush, Gallagher and Lamb, representing the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange of Brooklyn. But for the change in the municipal administration of Brooklyn, which takes place on the first proximo, this bill might be reintroduced, with good chances of passing, at the coming session of the Legislature. But Brooklyn will probably suffer the continuance of a clumsy, antiquated set of building regulations, utterly inadequate to the protection of a great and modern city, because of the curse it suffers. in common with other cities of the Union, of having what is known as the political feature in its domestical government. It is the desire of Commissioner Rutan to secure the reintroduction of the bill that was before the Legislature last year, modified in some unimportant particulars, if, after consultation with Mayor Schieren, he finds that it will have the support of the City Hall. There are doubts about the support being given, in view of the fact that the change in the political character of the city administration means, that the new commissioner, who will not take office until the first of February, may wish to have some supervision of a measure that affects his office so closely, and which is too large a task for any man's consideration in the time that will intervene between his taking office and the date at which it would have to be at Albany for action there. If the new Mayor, however, could be induced to take a liberal and unpartisan view of this question, looking at it from the point of view of public necessity, and proceed immediately on taking office, toget the abandoned bill of last year in shape for the action of the Legislature, it would still be possible to secure a reasonably satisfactory building law for Brooklyn this year. Otherwise the opportunities for delays make it highly improbable.

Will you kindly answer the following question in next week's RECORD AND GUIDE: "In case a piece of property is let to a party for one year, with privilege of two more, how does broker base his commission?" Can he charge commission on second and third years from year to year if tenant remains? A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—No. He can charge 2½ per cent on first year and 1 per cent on remaining two years.—LAW EDITOR.

In the Municipal Departments.

The Park Department, under date of Dec. 22, sent to the Board of Street Opening and Improvements its recommendation in the Riverside Park water front improvement, with a map showing the new lands to be included in the park. It recommends that all the land between the present park and the bulkhead line be included in the park except a plot extending 785 feet along the bulkhead line at 79th street and of 1,100 feet at 96th street—in both cases equidistant each way from the middle of said streets, which is reserved for dock purposes. The Board of Street Opening and Improvement will probably act on this report at its next meeting on Jan. 4.

A special meeting of the Board of Street Opening and Improvement will be held at the Mayor's office on January 12th, at 11 o'clock, at which Commissioner Haffen's plans for the redistricting of the 23d and 24th Wards, including the changing of many street lines and grades, will be given public hearing.

Corporation Counsel Clark, on Thursday, said to a reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, that it was not likely that the Elm street improvement matter would be taken up for some time yet. The reason given by Mr. Clark was that his office was too much engrossed with other business to be able to devote attention to the Elm street matter now, but there are probably other and better reasons for holding this important improvement in abeyance.

The College place improvement is in a fair way towards an early report from the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment. The Commissioners have recasted their report in a manner which they believe will meet Judge Lawrence's objection to their original report. They have changed the assessment only on the line of the improvement, and there only on the property of which part was taken for the widening. In their first report they made awards for the full value of the fronts taken, and assessed the value of new fronts created. In their corrected report they have made awards only for the property taken, as if it were off the rear end of the lots and buildings, making no special awards for fronts, and have assessed only for the benefit accruing from the widened street, as on the opposite side of the new thoroughfare. By this process the general scheme remains as before, and the assessments on the rest of the area of assessment remains as in the original finding. The report is in the hands of the Commissioners for their signature and will probably be filed in a few days.

In the St. John's Park condemnation proceedings the testimony has been closed, and the papers are in the hands of the commissioners to compute and determine the awards. After that has been done the assessment will be laid and the report prepared for filing.

The Park Department has asked for an appropriation to remove the old buildings from Corlears Hook Park preparatory to putting it in shape for public use.

Commissioner Haffen, of Street Improvements, will receive proposals until Tuesday, January 9th, at 3 P. M., at his office, No. 2622 3d avenue, for regulating, grading, curbing, flagging and setting crosswalks in 161st street, from Gerard to Jerome avenue, and in 167th street, from Prospect to Westchester avenues.

The Commissioners of Charities and Correction will receive proposals at their office, No. 66 3d avenue, until 10 o'clock on Monday, January 8th, for a large amount of hardware and lumber supplies for the department during the ensuing year. Specifications can be obtained of the Board on application.

The Park Commissioners will receive proposals at their office, 49 and 51 Chambers street, until 11 o'clock on Thursday, January 18th, for the construction of the public driveway along the Harlem River, between 155th street and Highbridge. This is the first section of the proposed driveway, which is to extend to Fort George.

The Board of Street Opening and Improvement, at its last meeting for the year, adopted formal resolutions providing for the opening of the following streets: Convent avenue, from 150th street to Avenue St. Nicholas; 179th street, from Amsterdam avenue to Kingsbridge road; 171st street, from Amsterdam avenue to Kingsbridge road; and 181st street, from Kingsbridge road to Fort Washington Ridge road; and Sherman avenue, from 161st to 164th street.

The report of Commissioner Daly, of Public Works, to the Board of Street Opening and Improvement, on the cost of changing the grades of West 48th, 49th and 50th streets from 11th avenue to the bulkhead line will probably result in the abandonment of the proceeding. The report shows that the value of the real estate to be taken is $1,423,000; the estimated damage to property is $151,200, and the cost of grading $203,750, making a total cost of $1,777,950. The report was filed.

Corporation Counsel Wm. H. Clark will on Thursday, January 11th, apply to the Supreme Court for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the street opening proceedings—Inwood avenue, from Cromwell avenue to Featherbed lane, and East 174th street, from Vanderbilt avenue East to 3d avenue.

Modern Town House Architecture.

SOME EXCELLENTLY LOCATED AND WELL-FITTED HOUSES DESIGNED FOR HOME LIFE AND COMFORT.

Among the people who have in the past few years transformed the upper West Side from a collection of shanty towns and truck gardens, whose very aspect struck one with chill and dampness, into a wide region of handsome homes, in which every form of attractive domestic architecture plays a part, Messrs. Dunn Brothers, of 85th street, have a very creditable position. In a long strip of territory along West End avenue and the Riverside Drive, between 78th and 104th streets, they have already built and sold thirty-five houses and have built under contract about one hundred and fifty more, all of which are occupied and giving to this region that air of prosperity and comfort which it did not possess a few years ago whatever claims it may have had to the picturesque and romantic, though no doubt the romance is still there, but in another form and concealed from view by ornamental stone and polished wood. The firm of Dunn Brothers is now completing a quarter of a century of effort, in the line of home creation, by the erection of a row of twelve houses on the north side of 78th street, west of West End avenue, which promises to be as satisfactory in result as all their work has been. But it is not the intention here to give a general history of this firm of builders, but rather to show what claim they have to the favor of buyers by a brief description of some of the houses they have lately completed and are now submitting to the inspection of intending purchasers.

Eleven new houses on West Eighty-fourth Street,

DUNN BROS., 323 West 85th Street,
Owners and Builders.

The first lot of these houses to which attention may be drawn are eleven on the north side of 84th street, between West End avenue and the Riverside Drive. Dunn Bros. adopt the excellent plan of making any set of houses they are building, while harmonious in their architectural form, of different styles to gratify varying tastes. Thus, in the case of these eleven houses, eight are high stoop and three American basement houses, while the general plan of the interiors is as uniform as the different styles will permit. The illustration that accompanies this article gives a good idea of the exterior aspect of these houses, which may be completed in the mind's eye when it is said that the front is of rubbed brownstone, and in that way a pictureis obtained of a row of substantial brownstone houses, relieved from heaviness by ornamental carving and plentiful window space, giving promise of light and cheerfulness within. The promise of brightness within is fully redeemed. Nine of these houses have a frontage of 18 feet and two a frontage of 19 feet. All are 54 feet deep with an extension 14 feet deep forming a butler's pantry on the dining-room floor and carried up in bath-rooms above. The ground floor contains a reception-room and kitchen and other offices. Above are the parlor, music-room, dining-room and the butler's pantry previously referred to. The second floor is composed of two large bedrooms, each having a dressing-saloon attached and connected or separated as the case may be by sliding doors. Above these are four smaller bedrooms, and in a half floor higher two servants' sleeping rooms. The embellishments are in keeping with the handsome exterior and sensible arrangement of the house space. In the mantels of artistic design, wainscoting, doorways, fretwork arches for portieres, which divide the parlors and music-room; in the hat-racks and other embellishment of the hallways, the polished oak, cherry, ash and mahogany that are distributed severally through the different houses is found that aspect of satisfactory finish that hard-wood always gives to a house when properly prepared and fitted. This feature is further heightened by the plentiful use of beveled glass in the hallways, over the mantels and in the dressing-rooms. The dining-rooms are laid with parquet flooring to match the general trim of the houses and are spacious and well lit, as rooms used for so important a part of family life and in which a family spends so much time, should be. Passing to the details of the not less important though less prominent parts of the house and taking the kitchens first there will be found there, besides the usual accessories, stationary ice boxes and meat safes, separate communications with the butler's pantry, and in the case of the American basement, as well as the other houses, separate access to the street. The bath-rooms are fitted with porcelain-lined tubs, marble basins, etc., the whole of the plumbing being of the open kind and the supports and fixtures bright pla te, while the floors and wainscot are tiled. Nothing is left to mar the pleasant impression these houses make upon he visitor. There is nothing unfinished, except, of course, the interior decorations, from the cemented forecourt inclosed in the conventional low coping to the rear yard, which is finished by a centre grass plat and cemented paths around it. From the details and fittings of the kitchen to the servants' room in the top half story there is an aspect of finish and completeness which speaks in every item of a hand tried and experienced in the making of bright, comfortable houses.

All that has been said in praise of these houses on 84th street can also be said of another lot of eleven, erected by Dunn Bros., occupying the block between 98th and 99th streets, on the west side of West End avenue, with some other details that belong to these exclusively. As is well known, this is one of the highest and most salubrious situations on the West Side, and it may also be said of New York, for, though there are higher points, there is none more renowned for the purity and bracing character of its atmosphere. This row also consists of eleven houses, but, as they occupy the whole block between the two streets, those at either end have the advantage of an entrance at the sides, while to the front rooms is given the whole width of the site on the avenue, thereby making some spacious and very handsome apartments. Each of the end houses has a frontage of 21 feet, two are of 17 feet front and seven of 18 feet; the depth, like those on 84th street, is 54 feet, with an extension. Two of the nine houses having their entrances on West End avenue, are of the attractive American basement design, while the remainder are alternately of the high and box stoop variety. They are all built in the same handsome relieved design in brownstone, the steps and balustrades of the approaches being of the same material. The general interior design, trim and finish is the same as that described as belonging to the houses on 84th street. There is, of course, a variation in the design of the house at either end of this row. In the basement, the front room is intended for a billiard-room, for which its light and spaciousness makes it especially fitted, while the rear is given over to kitchen and servants' offices. The entrance is on the first floor and approached by a high stoop. In the hall, which is finished entirely in polished oak, on either side of the entrance is a footman's recess. On one side is a handsome parlor and on the other a large dining-room wanting in none of the details that make that apartment in the other houses so attractive; beyond that is a butler's pantry communicating with the kitchen below by its own stairway. The rooms in the upper floors, with their attendant dressing saloons, bath-rooms, etc., are in general details of design and ornamentation similar to those already described, except having the additional advantage of more light from the fact that they look out on the side streets, and the rear rooms of all this West End avenue row have the very great advantage of looking out over the Riverside Drive to a splendid sweep of the Hudson below and its grand background, the Palisades.—(Communicated.)

Tim & Co., 58 and 60 West 34th street, will act on first and second mortgages in forty-eight hours. Applications from builders and brokers solicited.—Advt.

Real Estate Market.

There are no positive signs of improvement in the real estate market. Liquidation is going on with more or less friction, and occasionally shows in transactions of some nominal importance. But of trading of the kind that characterizes a healthful market, where prices are tending upward and both the buyer and the seller are unfeignedly pleased with their trade, there is none. Prices are tending downward, and the indications are many that before there can be any improvement in the market there must be some scaling down of prices in many kinds of property. The longer it takes to reach bed-rock the longer will the market continue in a depressed and inactive state. It is, of course, pleasing to note that building operations are in a fair way to amount to something, and that now and then some big and wealthy corporation buys a new business site—as did the Clearing House Association yesterday; but these occasional flashes of prosperity do not make a market. There is much apprehension of an increase in foreclosures within the next few weeks, and these cannot help having a bad effect on the market.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

The Long Island Title Company has been reorganized with the following officers and executive board: David Thornton, president; William P Rae, vice-president; Robert Rae, secretary, and these and James G. Tighe and Daniel M. Tredwell, directors. The company has its offices in the Germania building, Nos.375 to 379 Fulton street, opposite City Hall, Brooklyn. Its staff of searchers includes Daniel M. PLANS FOR BRIDGE APPROACH.

At the joint meeting of the Bridge Trustees and the Citizens' Committee, held on Wednesday evening, at the Bridge offices on Washington street, Mr. Notman reported that the Citizens' Committee, at the Hamilton Club, last Friday had disapproved all the present plans of the Bridge Trustees, but had approved an extensive use of Adams street.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

The Clearing House Association yesterday authorized its executive committee to buy the properties Nos. 77, 79 and 81 Cedar street, including the Bodega cafe and two adjoining buildings, for $375,000, and to sell their building on the northwest corner of Nassau and Pine streets, when the new building to be built for them on the Cedar street site is ready for their occupancy. The Cedar street property is 65.11 front x93.1x64.1x85.4. It was bought by Ottinger Bros. at auction in March, for $271,500.

Fairchild & Yoran have sold for Henry W. Droge, the five-story brick flat, No. 39 Jane street, to Mrs. R. Vollhart, on private terms.

C. E. Harrell has sold fsr Builder F. H Mela the new eight-story fire-proof store, No. 30 Lafayette place, size 30x155, for about $185,000, to Wm. H. Burgess. This building was rented recently through Mr. Harrell for ten years to Funk & Wagnalls, the publishers, at $13,500 per annum.

Wilmerding & Field have sold the four-story brownstone house 60 West 36th street, 20x98.9, for Elizabeth Wright at $37,000; and the four-story brownstone house, 63 West 36th street, 25x98.9, for A. I. Elkus, attorney, to Louis Grunhut; terms private.

Charles F. White has sold the five-story three-family flat house, 27 x90x111, No. 348 East 42d street, for Thomas J. Maguire to John Moser, the price being about $30,000.

Leonard J. Carpenter has sold for the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor the four-story brick building, No. 70 4th avenue, to Mayer Kahn for something under $30,000.

H. H. Cammann & Co. have sold for the Real Estate Loan and Trust Co. the four-story dwelling and lot, No. 60 West 37th street, for $37,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

J. H. Burchell and Robert Breckinridge have sold for the Just estate a plot of twelve lots, eight comprising the east side of 8th avenue, between 134th and 135th streets, and four adjoining on 135th street. There are seven five-story flats on the avenue and a one-story brick school on the street. The consideration being $325,000.

Messrs. Stabler & Smith report: Messrs. Watkins Bros. request us to report that they have sold to Mr. Charles Fessler, No 420 West 154th street, a three-story, high stoop, brown stone dwelling, 18.9x 56x100, with bath-room extension, on private terms. This is the last of the houses built by them in this block, and is the fifth house sold by them on Washington Heights since July 1st this year. We also wish to report that we have sold for Charles Gahren to Nathan Clark, Nos. 73 and 75 West 92d street; No. 73 West 92d street is a five-story single flat, 25x90x100; No. 75 West 92d street is a five-story double flat, 40x90x100. Mr. Gahren has taken in part payment three lots on the south side of 93d street, 250 feet west of Central Park West, on private terms. These are the last of the houses built by Mr. Gahren on the northeast corner of 92d street and Columbus avenue. In this connection it is important to know that at present, between 89th and 99th streets, Central Park West and 10th avenue, there are less than half a dozen houses remaining unsold in builder's hands.

We are informed that the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church Society have purchased as a site for their intended new edifice a plot of six lots on the Riverside Drive, corner of 99th street. Diligent inquiry failed to elicit further information on this matter.

F. T. Prankard & Son report: "We have sold for John Stewart, of Canal street, the premises (five-story stone front flat and lot), No 214 West 61st street, 25x85x100, to Mary Clinton, of Brooklyn, for $23,400. Attention is called to this sale, as two adjoining houses in this row were sold under foreclosure for $14,000 each to E. E. Tracey as trustee, showing what little (attention) is paid to legal sales."

Solomon & Schulze have sold the five-story four-suite apartment house, 33.4x90x100, Nos 164 and 166 East 112th street, for Julius Lipman, at $32,000.

Max Simon has sold the five-story double flat house, 25x87x100, No. 110 West 106th street, for Mrs. Mary A Frank to Wm. F. Koerner on private terms.

R. J. Brown's Sons have sold a house and lot, 35x156, on Fulton avenue, near 167th street, at $5,500; and a lot, 25x90, on Boston avenue, near Bristow street, at $2,500.

J. Clarence Davies has sold for Messrs. Danzig & Kutz three lots on south side of 156th street, 100 feet east of Westchester avenue, for about $6,000 to John A. President Thomas A. Wilson, of the Brooklyn Board of Assessors, has sent a report of the operations of the department for the present year to Mayor Boody. The report shows an increase of assessable values this year over last of $22,314,847, as follows:

	1892.	1893.	Increase.
Real estate	$467,113,882	$486,531,506	$19,417,624
Personal property	16,625,947	19,523,170	2,897,223
Total	$483,739,829	$506,054,676	$22,314,847

The total increase of $22,314,847 is derived from the following sources:

Valuations of new buildings	$15,266,650
Increase in personal property valuations	2,897,223
Increase in other valuations in other parts of the city	4,150,974
Total increase	22,314,847

The increase in personal property values is almost wholly due to the enhanced value contributed by the street railway systems, over 25 per cent of the personal property assessed being derived from this source alone.

The City of Brooklyn has leased to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, the property adjacent to the Prospect Hill reservoir for a term of 100 years, at an annual rental of $1. Mayor Boody and Park Commissioner George V. Brower, for the city, and Professor Franklyn W. Hooper, John B. Woodward and Robert Foster, for the Institute, signed the papers.

Obituary.

Robert C. Fisher, well known in the building trades in this city, died on Monday in the parish house of Trinity Episcopal Church in New Rochelle at the age of 57. He attended the Christmas service in the church on Monday in apparently excellent health. At the conclusion of the service he stood at the door of the church and gave each of the poorer members and attendants a twenty dollar gold piece as they passed out. He had scarcely finished when he reeled and would have fallen had he not been supported by several friends who stood by. He was removed to the place where he died. With his sons he conducted the R. C. Fisher Marble Works at No. 7 East Houston street, this city. He leaves an estate estimated at $1,000,000.

THE MUNICIPAL BUILDING PLANS.

The Municipal Building Commission met yesterday and received the report of Messrs. Le Brun, Kendall & Ware, constituting the advisory committee of architects. The committee examined 134 plans, and out of these selected thirty, which they studied specially. Of these they reported that Nos. 13, 23, 28, 35, 107 and 113 seemed to them the best. They said of these, however:

But no one of them is perfectly satisfactory, and whichever design may be finally selected by the Commission it will have to undergo considerable modifications before it can meet their reasonable requirements.

The Commission will meet next Thursday at the Comptroller's office to consider these six fortunates, but the names of their authors will not be disclosed until a selection has been made of the plan from which the building will be constructed

Trade Notes.

The Eastern Hydraulic-Press Brick Company, of Philadelphia, for several years having a local office in the World Building, have lately removed to the Metropolitan Building, at the corner of Madison avenue and 23d street. Mr. F. L. Blake, who has been the company's representative in this market, retires from that position and is succeeded by Mr. C. H. Wilson. Mr. Wilson is a courteous gentleman, a practical brick man, and will be glad to welcome old and new friends in his handsome new quarters. In connection with its new offices, and in a spacious and well-lighted room, the company has placed a well-arranged, permanent and extensive display of its bricks. These are laid up in panels, each several feet square, and extending from floor to ceiling. Here are shown fifty varieties of front bricks in standard and Roman sizes and in all the new shades of color. Each color is shown in a sufficient number of bricks to clearly indicate the appearance they present when laid up in a wall, thus conveying intelligently to the visitor the object-lesson sought. It is impossible to fairly represent these new colors with a single sample brick where the effect desired is produced by variety of shade or "run-of-kiln." The large and handsome exhibit of front bricks made by the Eastern company at the Building Material Exhibit, Nos. 276 to 282 Washington street, Brooklyn, which has attracted so much attention among architects, builders and others contemplating building in that city and on Long Island, will shortly be enlarged and rearranged in order to show more completely the newer shapes and colors now so popular. With the New York and Brooklyn exhibits, both central of location, interested parties in either city will have convenient points at which they may inspect and make selections of brick from the largest concentrated displays ever presented. The Eastern Hydraulic-Press bricks received the highest award at the World's Fair for ornamental and high grade pressed front bricks. Pending the receipt of the medal the official blue ribbon decorates both exhibits.

A NEW GALVANIZED IRON WORK ESTABLISHMENT.

The best sort of a manufacturer is the one who has won his way from the bench to his independent position. In galvanized iron cornices, skylights, roofing, etc., Mr. N. Bois had fourteen years of experience as a workman and shop foreman and manager for the largest firms, before he concluded to go into business for himself. Now he is established at No. 200 South 5th avenue. All contracts are executed under his special supervision, and he guarantees their thorough workmanship. Mr. Bois starts under favorable auspices for success.

AS TO GAS FIXTURES.

Gas fixtures are indispensable fittings in every new house and place of business. They are among the class of articles upon which much or little can be expended. Most people want as large value as can be obtained for their money—good, substantial work and up-to-date designs. They can't get that everywhere. One of the places they can get it (the best value for their money) is at the establishment of Ritter & Schaab, Nos. 163 to 167 Van Pelt avenue, corner of Russell street, Brooklyn. Ritter & Schaab are manufacturers of established reputation and experience, and will gladly furnish estimates for all kinds of work.

Out Among the Builders.

The plans of Mr. Stephen D. Hatch for the new building of the New York Life Insurance Company are nearly complete, and will soon be ready for the letting of the contracts. They provide for a fire-proof structure, twelve stories high, to cover all that part of the block not covered by the present structure. It will front on Elm and Leonard streets and Catherine lane. In general style it will harmonize with the building on the Broadway end of the block, except that it will be much higher and will have a flat roof instead of a Mansard, and the skyline will be worked out in a massive cornice. Tuckahoe marble was used for the front of the present building and that or something like it will be used for the new building. Auditor Brown said yesterday that it was the company's intention to proceed with construction as soon as the contracts could be let. The work of tearing down and removing the old buildings has already begun.

The Clearing House Association will build a new banking and office building on the plot Nos. 77, 79 and 81 Cedar street, the purchase of which was authorized at yesterday's meeting.

On a plot, 92x192, on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 20th street, the Presbyterian Boards of Home and Foreign Missions, will, it is said, erect an imposing office building. The plans are still in embryo. The property was bought for the Board at the Stuart Estate sale in March last, for $670,000.

Frank Wennemer is the architect for two groups of five-story tenements, to be erected for Messrs. Sauer, Gross & Herbener, one on the southwest corner of 88th street and East End avenue, and one on the southwest corner of 89th street and East End avenue. There will be a store in each of the corner buildings. Each group will cover a ground space of 101x96, will have brownstone fronts and all improvements. Cost not estimated.

Architect James W. Cole has the plans for two five-story brick flats with stores, to be erected on the west side of 9th avenue, 50 feet north of 50th street, by Builder Andrew Ewald, at a cost of about $18,000 each. The flats will be arranged for three families per floor, have hot and cold water and be trimmed with stone.

John A. Knox will erect four three-story brick dwellings on the south side of 156th street, 100 feet east of Westchester avenue, on a plot of three lots.

The building will be constructed of brick, and in the same general design as the present structure, 143x65 feet in size. The interior will be finished in hardwood, heated by steam and lighted by electricity. The connections with the present building will be by bridges over Fulton place. Mr. Morse has also plans for an addition to the two-story brick stables for the same firm on the south side of Quincy street, 125 feet east of Downing street. Another story, 32x60.10 feet, irregular, will be added, to be used as a hay loft, and the second story will be altered to accommodate thirty horses; cost, $3,000. O. Nolan, mason, and Morris & Selover, carpenters.

Winfred Burr will erect four two-story and basement stone front dwellings, 18.9x45, 50 and 51 feet, adjoining his present buildings on the south side of Putnam avenue, between Stuyvesant and Reid avenues. They will contain all improvements and hot air heating and will be finished in the best manner.

L. B. Valk & Son have the plans for a buff brick chapel with brownstone trimmings, 36x92, to be built on 4th avenue and 50th street, for St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church. The building will be heated by hot air, and ventilated on the Valk system. The first floor will be used as a Sunday-school with main auditorium above, electric and gas combination fixtures will be used, and the inside trim will be of North Carolina pine, the pews are to be of hardwood; the cost will be $10,000.

H. Vollweiler has plans for three three-story frame double tenements, 25x58 each, to be erected on the south side of Troutman street, 200 feet west of Irving avenue, for Joseph Bayer, to cost $15,000.

Statistics of Building and Loan Associations.

A study of the most recent statistics collected in the States of New York and New Jersey, representing the growth of Building and Loan Associations, reveals some significant facts that should be of great interest to readers of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. The recent report published by the Banking Department of New York contains a wealth of statistical information, but it is given to the public in its original shape as forwarded to the department in the reports of the various Associations, with the exception of one general tabular summary covering the entire State. No effort has been made by the Banking Department to supply to a curious public any tabular analysis of the statistics as affecting different parts of the State. On the other hand, the report recently issued from the office of the New Jersey Bureau of Statistics and Labor goes to the other extreme, in giving a wealth of analytical tables, some of which are more ingenious than necessary. The student who examines the statistics of both reports with a view to judging the effect of the Building and Loan Association movement upon the Metropolitan District discovers some remarkable facts. A word or two about the general statistics of both States may first be given. In New York State, there were at the last official report 417 Associations, of which eighty-one were in New York County and thirty-three in Kings. The membership of the Associations of the State numbers over one hundred and sixty-six thousand, an increase of more than twenty thousand over 1891. The assets of the Associations of the State amount to $34,000,000, invested in small homes by the members of these Associations.

In New Jersey there were, according to the last official reports, three hundred Associations, through whose agency over thirty millions of dollars have been invested in homes for people of poor or moderate circumstances. There are about ninety thousand members in the New Jersey Associations, and about twenty-five thousand houses in the State are owned by persons who are paying for them through the Associations.

But to come back to the Metropolitan district. According to the last reports, the local Associations of New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond and Westchester Counties in New York State had loaned in round figures ten million dollars upon small houses owned by Building Association members. During 1892 the amount invested in homes in these five counties was three millions, three hundred thousand. A slightly larger amount was invested, according to estimate, in 1893. The amount invested during 1892 by New York City Associations alone reached two millions, chiefly placed in suburban localities within twenty-five miles of the City Hall. About six thousand members of the Associations in the counties mentioned are living in homes purchased through the Associations.

In New Jersey the greatest development of the Association movement has been in the counties within easy distance of New York City. Hudson County leads the State with over fifty Associations, which have invested about seven millions of dollars in and about Jersey City. The number of Associations in Essex County—about sixty—is larger, but their investment in homes is slightly less than that of Hudson, although larger returns come from Newark people than from Jersey City. During 1892 five hundred new home-owners were created in Newark and vicinity, and about four hundred and fifty in Hudson County by the Associations of Jersey City, Harrison and Hoboken. In Bergen County the Associations at Hackensack, Ridgewood and Rutherford, in Middlesex, at New Brunswick, Perth Amboy and South Amboy, and in Union County at Elizabeth and Plainfield were added during the year a total of nearly five hundred houses to the credit of Association members. In the five counties of Hudson, Essex, Middlesex, Passaic and Union, the assets of these Associations amount to about twenty-one million dollars invested in nearly twelve thousand homes. The "loan fund" in these counties during 1892 was about five and one-half million dollars, and in the year just closing it will amount to about six millions. The New Jersey statistics show a steady increase in the number of Associations, as well as in the number of members.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—There does not seem to be much that is really new this week, although now and then casual remarks have led to the inference that the tone does not stiffen to the extent hoped for. It is because of want of good balance between supply and demand. In one way or another a great deal of stock has collected here, and while a portion was intentionally sent forward as a winter accumulation, there are a great many cargoes upon which shippers would have preferred realizing to holding. Notwithstanding the comparatively open winter, however, consumption was slow and unsatisfactory, and not a few buyers have rather objected to paying the last advance so long as they found arrivals of good quality coming forward. We again hear of business accomplished at $6, but apparently only because the buyer wanted a special make to continue uniformity of quality. Most of the business has been done a fraction lower. The recent break up of ice and practical reopening of the river, it is said, did not make much difference in the supply, as manufacturers who had been previously shut off were not prepared to take advantage of the opportunity for renewing shipments. Contracts for spring work are few and far between thus far, and, all things considered, holding the market steady is worthy of some commendation.

LATH.—The market has certainly gained no strength, and so far as made public does not appear to have settled away to any extent on desirable stock. The latest actual sales we learned of were at $2.10@2.15, yet there were rumors of a shade lower figures, and there is no doubt a concession would have to be made were there the least desire or effort to quicken the run of trade. Local dealers are particularly indifferent toward supplies, and, although some of the neighboring cities are believed to have a place for quite a little stock, orders from that direction will depend largely upon the condition of navigation. Then the arrivals are to be taken into consideration, and should those happen to run a little excessive it would place receivers at a somewhat serious disadvantage.

LIME.—An odd cargo comes along now and then, is taken in hand and worked off in lots to suit, making altogether a fair outlet against the supply. That constitutes about all the market just now, as the price is arbitrarily fixed, and all buyers have to do is to say how much stock they want and then step up to captain's office and settle.

LUMBER.—Pretty much everything is narrowed down to a limit of actual necessity, and as necessity is exceedingly small at the moment it makes a pretty slim sort of market, so much so as to render a weekly report of no special value. Yard men are doing practically nothing and in the majority of cases operators are abstaining as much as possible from negotiating over bulk parcels for either early or distant delivery, although there are exceptions to the latter rule where thoroughly staple stock is concerned. Thus we learn of two or three instances where white pine box and shippers have been under consideration for rail delivery soon after the turn of the year and hear of recent contracts covering nearly three million feet Carolina pine for February-March delivery. No general demand prevails, however, and it would surely result to the disadvantage of sellers endeavoring to hurry matters at the moment. Conditions of business are such as to leave values upon an uncertain sort of basis, and quotations can only be considered as nominal, yet the probabilities are that if any buyers are standing off with an idea that they will gain better terms thereby disappointment is to be their lot. Certainly the market has passed through about all the depressing features at all likely to befall it and brought affairs to a hard pan level, from which recovery would seem assured the moment the least tonch of reviving trade commenced to develop, for either coarse or hardwoods.

And regarding the average chances for improvement the feelings are still conservatively hopeful. Of course there are plenty who talk in a very pronounced manner about the great revival of trade that is to come and stand in contrast with the state of affairs recently prevailing, and it is sincerely hoped there may be a realization of this extremely bright picture. No faithful report of the market could be made, however, without giving due prominence to the views of careful—not timid—operators who fully recognize that business cannot be shouted into any stable improvement, and that the permanent gain will depend upon the reappearance of consumers of their own volition and in more general form. Until finally settled, the tariff question can hardly fail to prove a disturbing factor, and even when demand does revive it must be tested against the offerings. It is, has been an oft told and probably well-founded tale that stocks on such consuming markets as our own are comparatively small and poorly assorted and, indeed, not in position to stand any great draft, and reasoning follows: that as soon as dealers feel the touch of returning custom they will have to reach out for renewals from first-hand holdings. But on the other hand, there has been a gradual accumulation of considerable magnitude, made by manufacturers and the large dealers at some of the principal concentrating points at the interior, and the possible force of attempts to realize upon such supplies has to be weighed up by all who care to look upon the prospect with conservatism, natural to healthy business methods.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

So far as actual trade conditions at the passing time are concerned, there is little to be said. Immediately prior to the holidays there is but slight prevalent movement of lumber in any year. In this somber season of 1893, the ending of it must necessarily be excessively quiet. Such life as remains is in closing up unfulfilled business, taking account of stock and meeting such current requirement as is necessitated by building operations in the cities and towns.

There is less anticipation for future trade than was evident last year at this time. Next to no negotiation for stocks is reported. Dealers are satisfied to get the fag ends of this season's purchases in shape without looking ahead for further supplies.

The fact that wholesale dealers have taken in lumber cautiously during the past season, and have anticipated little or nothing beyond the bare requirements of the spring trade, is a feature of the situation, indicating that the trade system has been purged of overload, and that thus good health has been secured which is likely to result in vigor later on.

In respect to conditions in all their phases, the lightness of stocks in the hands of retail dealers and consumers, the moderate though probably ample supplies in the hands of wholesale dealers and mill operators, and the certainty that there will be no overproduction, either in logs or lumber, for at least a year, are conspicuous features, and they form a sufficient basis for at least a fair trade in the spring.

At Chicago yards prices are reported steady on short piece stuff, at about $12 a thousand, with an easier range on long lengths, except in cases where particular sizes and lengths are scarce. The far-looking dealers who know that long stuff was neglected during the cargo season are inclined to hold it without concession, believing that in the spring, when the local building requirement shall eat into the supply, there will be a good inquiry for long lengths.

The majority are billing out fencing at $15 a thousand for 16-foot No. 1, $12.50 and $13 for No. 2 and $10 for No. 3, but individual concerns report higher prices, especially for No. 1. Boards are selling at about quotations, but there may be more inclination to concede on large bills of boards than on strips.

The general inclination is to hold prices even and steady all along the line, but it is not likely that there will be much, if any, advance before the full development of the spring trade. In the existing condition of things dealers will sell freely when they can do so at prevailing prices, and on large bills they may concede a little to good paying customers.

There is little movement in poplar and prices depend largely upon circumstances. Among the larger manufacturers there is no disposition to seek trade at less than association prices, for they are aware that good lumber is scarce and will be worth more money in the spring. In fact, the general tendency of the market is toward greater firmness. There is no denying that prices have been and, for that matter, still are somewhat demoralized, but this will only last so long as trade is practically dead.

The Northwestern Lumberman says, editorially:

Men who believe in free trade are making laborious arguments in an effort to show why free Canadian lumber would have no deleterious effect on the lumber business of the United States. They manipulate statistics, quote party doctrine, and all the time knowingly or unknowingly are blind to the logic of the situation.

That logic is this: Every foot of lumber that comes from Canada into the markets of the United States takes the place of lumber that would be sold by our manufacturers had the Canadian lumber not come here.

Will anybody dispute that?

With the import duty on lumber removed, more cheap lumber will come to the markets on this side of the line than would be the case did such lumber pay a duty.

Will anybody deny that?

Our sawing capacity is already too large, which means idle mills and mill hands out of employment; is it best to increase this idle mill capacity, and create a condition which shall throw still more men out of employment, by letting in an increased amount of Canadian lumber?

No question has ever arisen which is simpler of solution, so far as the interests of the lumber manufacturer are concerned, than is this one.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

If the clerk of the weather bureau has not entered into a conspiracy to overcrowd the log market there is circumstantial evidence enough to convict him anyhow. From eighteen to twenty-four inches of snow; splendid weather and excellent roads are on hand to help the loggers do two or three times what they started in to accomplish. The Mississippi Valley Lumbermen's Association proposes, but the clerk of the weather bureau disposes.

The shipping season, in the Saginaw Valley, which closed about Dec. 1, has not been a profitable one for vessel carriers, nor to the lumber dealers, and the movement of forest products, as shown by the figures, is the smallest in a quarter of a century. From Saginaw, 48,574,000 feet of lumber was shipped, and from Bay City 124,580,000 feet, making a total of 173,154,000 feet of lumber as against 347,866,000 feet for 1892, and 404,577,000 feet in 1891. The comparative table of shipments for each year since 1868 shows that during that year 430,128,000 feet of lumber was shipped by water from the Saginaw, and that shipments continued to increase until the maximum was reached in 1882, when 858,344,000 feet was sent out. That was when the Saginaw river valley was in its glory as a lumber district, but since then there has been a gradual decline. The falling-off this year is due largely to the times, and it is of course to be presumed that next year's volume of shipments will be much larger.

NAILS.—Demand continues moderate and uncertain and no immediate general revival is looked for. Possibly just after the turn of the year there may be a little flurry to fill out deficiencies discovered upon the taking of inventories, but the chances are that buyers will not handle any great quantity of stock until they feel well assured they are to be favored with something like a respectable call from consumers. Supplies are ample and prices generally ruling about as for some time past. We quote Cut at $1.00@1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.20@1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.20@1.30 for car lots, and $1.60@1.65 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—In a general way, business remains on the dull list and the markets for various descriptions of stock furnish very little information of an important character at the moment. A few customers who have completed inventories before the close of year, and come to a conclusion as to about the quantity and assortment they will need to round out accumulations for general working purposes, are commencing to place orders; but the volume of demand is by no means full and, such as it is, carries only thoroughly staple goods. The call is very well met from the quantities in hand, except in the case of goods upon which it is the habit to book orders at the commencement of the year, and for such the terms are not exacting. In general, prices remain as previously quoted. Corroders' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 7¼c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6¾c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 6⅝c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 6½c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c.; and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil meets with more or less demand all the while, but at the moment small quantities appear to satisfy the majority of buyers, and the cost of all grades is without much change. We quote at 41@42c. for Western, 43@45c. for City from domestic seed, and 61@62c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has been somewhat irregular, but on the whole inclined to a slightly higher range of value. Favorable accounts from the South and generally well controlled supplies help the situation. We quote at 29½@30½c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Business has been of a moderate character and hardly up to the volume that would be considered sufficient to give the market a fair trial. Nevertheless, holders of the supply have thought well enough of their property to carry it steadily at about former valuation. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.
